Won't enforce 20-28°C AC temp norm: Union min

Union minister Bhupender Yadav on Friday said the government is unlikely to implement the new AC temperature range anytime soon. Asked at the India Climate Summit when the new AC temperature range would be implemented, Yadav said any such situation "may arise only after 2050". "I do not think it will happen immediately; capacities will be gradually built for it over time," he said. Achieving climate targets must be done in line with national circumstances.

Let's avoid new complexities: India to China

Rajnath flags trust deficit, stresses need for permanent solution to border demarcation

MAYANK SINGH @ New Delhi

INDIA and China should build on the fresh momentum in the bilateral relations and avoid new complexities, Defence Minister Rajnath Singh said on Friday, a day after he met his Chinese counterpart Admiral Dong Jun on the sidelines of the Shanghai Cooperation Organisation Defence Ministers' conclave in Qingdao, China.

"It is incumbent on both sides to maintain this positive momentum and avoid adding new complexities in the bilateral relationship," Singh posted on X, adding that he exchanged "constructive and forward-looking views" with Dong on Thursday.

During the talks, Singh emphasised the need for a structured and permanent approach to de-escalation and peace along the Line of Actual Control. He outlined a roadmap for effective border management, achieving a permanent solution to border demarcation through established mechanisms, bridging the trust deficit stemming from the 2020 Eastern Ladakh standoff, and creating good neighbourly conditions to foster cooperation.

A defence ministry readout highlighted Singh's concern about trust deficit remaining a major barrier to progress.

Singh reiterated India's position that the Chinese People's Liberation Army must return to its deployment positions as they stood in April 2020, prior to violent clashes at multiple friction points such as Finger 4 on the north bank of Pangong Tso, Hot Springs, Gogra, Galwan, and Depsang.

The 2020 standoff breached several agreements and confidence-building measures, undermining decades of peace and stability efforts.

Although disengagement from all standoff points was completed in October 2024, over 1,00,000 troops with heavy military equipment still remain deployed near the LAC, indicating that challenges persist.

Beyond border issues, Singh also briefed the Chinese defence minister about the April 22 Pahalgam terrorist attack and India's Operation Sindoor aimed at dismantling Pakistan's terror infrastructure. He underlined India's right to self-defence and urged shared responsibility in combating terrorism.

Vets say phorate traces found in stomach of five dead tigers

BOSKY KHANNA @Bengaluru

VETERINARIANS have found traces of phorate, a chemical found in insecticides, in the meat of the dead ox in the stomach and digestive system of the tigress and her four cubs that were found dead in MM Hills on June 26. "Phorate is a carbonate compound found in insecticides. Local residents have laced the freshly dead ox with large quantities of insecticides containing phorate. All the five big cats have died within a couple of hours of eating the meat," said a veterinarian, who is part of the team constituted to investigate the deaths.

Animals die 4-5 hours after consuming poison-laced food when the digestion gets completed. But in some instances, like in this case, they die within a couple of hours if the poison content is high, he added. Also, the type of poison and its details can be best ascertained if the carcass is found within 4-5 days. P7

After US-China deal, Trump hints at 'big one' with India

EXPRESS NEWS SERVICE @ New Delhi

US President Donald Trump on Thursday said India and the US would soon sign a major trade agreement. He did not divulge more information.

Trump also disclosed that he had signed a new trade agreement with China the previous day. The White House later clarified that the US has reached an agreement with China for exports of rare earth elements, a key raw material for auto and electronics manufacturing.

Trump's remarks on a deal with India came as an Indian delegation led by chief negotiator Rajesh Agarwal arrived in Washington for the latest round of trade talks. Agarwal, special secretary in Department of Commerce, is leading discussions to finalise an interim pact ahead of Trump's July 9 deadline to slap reciprocal tariffs.

The Trump administration had on April 2 announced plans to impose reciprocal tariffs on several countries, including India. However, those tariffs have been suspended until July 9 to allow room for negotiations.

The US is seeking tariff concessions from India on a range of products, including industrial goods, electric vehicles, wines, petrochemical products, dairy items, and agricultural products such as apples and genetically modified crops.

In return, India is pushing for duty cuts on its labour-intensive exports such as textiles, gems and jewellery, leather goods, garments, plastics, chemicals, shrimp, oil seeds, grapes, etc.

Earlier this month, US Secretary of Commerce Howard Lutnick said a deal between India and the US could be finalised soon, with both countries finding common ground that suits their interests.

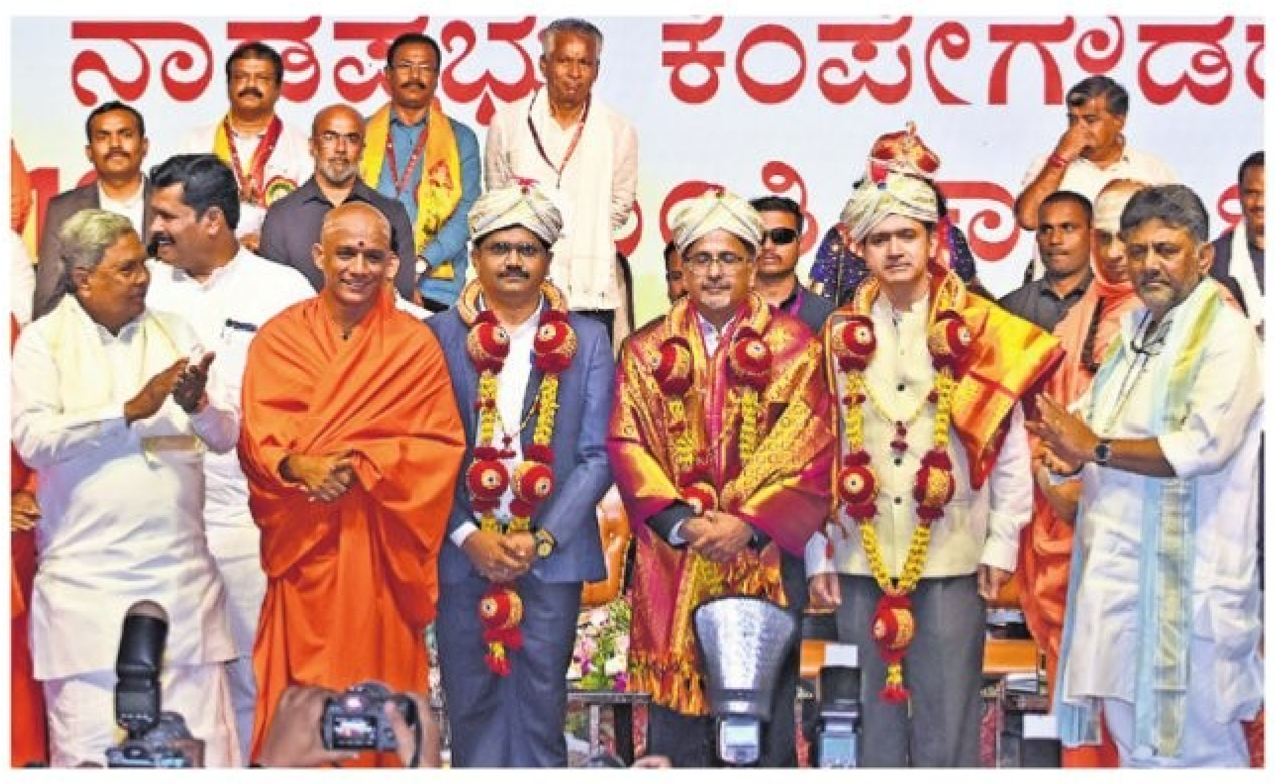
60,000-SEATER MULTI-PURPOSE STADIUM TO COME UP IN B'LURU

DCM says project requires up to 50 acres of land, 3 sites identified



Chief Minister Siddaramaiah and DCM DK Shivakumar along with seers of various mutts felicitate Indian Institute of Science's Kaushal Verma, Kempegowda International Airport MD Hari Marar and MSIL Director Prasanth PK during the 516th Kempegowda Jayanti programme in Bengaluru on Friday | EXPRESS

EXPRESS NEWS SERVICE
@Bengaluru

A NEW multi-purpose stadium will be constructed in Bengaluru with a seating capacity of 60,000 for which the government has already identified around 50 acres of land, announced Deputy Chief Minister DK Shivakumar.

The announcement comes three weeks after the stampede outside M Chinnaswamy Stadium on June 4 during the Royal Challengers Bengaluru (RCB) victory celebrations, which claimed 11 lives.

Speaking at the 516th birth anniversary celebration of Nadaprabhu Kempegowda organised by the Department Kannada and Culture Department, Bruhat Bangalore Mahanagara Palike (BBMP) and Nadaprabhu Kempegowda Development Authority here on Friday, Shivakumar said that three places have been identified for the project by former MP DK Suresh and the project may require up to 50 acres of land.

"The preparations for the project is in full swing," he added.

Shivakumar, who also holds the portfolio of Bengaluru Development, said, "Developing Bengaluru is not easy as its population has been increasing. We have launched a 40-km tunnel road, planned a network of flyovers spanning 118-km, and lined up Rs 1 lakh crore worth projects in the next three to four years."

Noting that the government is stressing on creating a clean Bengaluru, the DCM said, "We're determined to dismantle the garbage mafia. Waste generated in Bengaluru should be handled within Bengaluru without burdening other districts."

Before the event, Chief Minister Siddaramaiah laid the foundation stone for the Kempegowda Bhavan at Sumanahalli Circle. He assured that the building will be constructed at the earliest and that he himself will inaugurate it upon completion.

Spatikapuri Mahasamsthana Mutt head Nanjavadhuta Swamiji, also present at the event, urged the government to include Kempegowda's contributions in school curriculums and proposed that a major university be named after him to educate future generations about the city's visionary founder.

Deputy CM Shivakumar, while paying floral tribute to the statue of Kempegowda at the international airport, said the airport authorities and Bengaluru Development Authority (BDA) should jointly develop the Kempegowda Statue site and celebrate the occasion every year. He added that a plan will be drawn within four months to develop the Kempegowda theme park at the airport.

Apprenticeship-based degree courses soon

EXPRESS NEWS SERVICE
@ Bengaluru

THE state government will introduce apprenticeship-based degree programmes and revamp university syllabus with inputs from industry experts, Higher Education Minister MC Sudhakar said.

Speaking at the valedictory session of the Global Women Entrepreneurs Summit here, Dr Sudhakar said these measures aim to align higher education with industry demands and ensure students are better prepared for the job market.

He said the state took a step in this direction last year by launching a unique degree programme with apprenticeship. Courses such as BCom in Logistics, Retail, E-commerce, and Banking and Finance will be offered under this programme. "Students will undergo apprenticeships during their fifth and sixth semesters. This ensures that by the time they graduate, they are industry-ready," he added.

The government is now expanding this apprenticeship model programme and collaborating with industry partners to redesign the curriculum in government institutions, making it more dynamic and responsive to technological changes, he said.

He stressed the need for a systemic shift in the approach to education stating that the present education system is not conducive to support industrial growth. "We are seriously addressing this by focusing more on skilling and entrepreneurship," he said.

Dr Sudhakar said it was heartening to see the rising number of women entrepreneurs in Karnataka. "In a male-dominated society, it is inspiring to see women succeeding in large numbers. In many educational institutions, nearly 70% of gold medals are bagged by girls," he added.

He said Bengaluru has adequate infrastructure to support innovation, as seen in its flourishing startup ecosystem and robust IT sector. But academic institutions must keep pace with industry needs. "With technology evolving rapidly, education must also evolve. Industry inputs are crucial to keep the syllabus relevant," he said.

Metro Yellow Line gets safety clearance

EXPRESS NEWS SERVICE
@Bengaluru

The Bangalore Metro Rail Corporation Ltd (BMRCL) received the independent safety assessment (ISA) certificate for its much-awaited Yellow Line (Bommasandra-RV Road) on Friday.

Sources said following the ISA certification, the final safety inspection by the Commissioner of Metro Rail Safety (CMRS) is scheduled for July 15 and 16.

Though track-laying and station construction were completed nearly a year ago, trial runs began only after the first prototype driverless train arrived in April 2024.

BMRCL's technical team conducted extensive traction, braking, and safety system tests over three months.

In September, the Research Design and Standards Organisation (RDSO) carried out detailed operational trials involving rolling stock experts, track engineers, and brake specialists.

Progress, however, was delayed due to gaps in train availability. The second prototype train reached Bengaluru in January, and the third only in May, slowing momentum. The Yellow Line is a key link in Namma Metro's Phase II expansion.

BBMP marshals without salary for last 3 months

MOHAMMED YACOOB @Bengaluru

BBMP marshals deployed at lake security and supervision wing, ward monitoring and Indira Canteens are working without salaries since March.

The situation has arisen after Bangalore Solid Waste Management Limited was carved out of BBMP for garbage management. Their salaries are usually given through the Ex-Servicemen Welfare Society and each marshal is paid Rs 17,500 monthly.

"Supervisors say the delay is due to a set of procedures. Earlier, the amount was given to the Ex-Servicemen Welfare Society towards payments from BBMP. Now the files have to be cleared from BWSML to ward marshals. Similarly around 250 marshals will have to be paid after file clearance from Forest Wing and lastly, the Health Department of BBMP has to clear files related to marshals deployed at Indira Canteens. All these procedures take time and hence delay, as per the supervisors," a marshal said.

The municipality has cleared the payment of March related to ward marshals, however, their salaries are due since April. Similarly, the salaries of marshals under the jurisdiction of the lake and health departments are yet to be cleared since March, clarified a senior official.

"We have around 200 marshals in BBMP health department looking after the Indira Canteen security. The Medical Health Officer (MHO), who is authorised to clear the payment related file, has been transferred to another place in BBMP and a note has been sent to the Special Commissioner for Health in BBMP seeking the approval to allow the official to clear the payments. Once it is done, the salaries will be released," said a senior official.

The BBMP marshals said they had to borrow money from relatives and friends to fill petrol in bikes and come to work and running a home without a regular salary would push them to the brink.

Moon-Mars conjunction to dazzle skywatchers

RISHITA KHANNA @Bengaluru

SKYWATCHERS are in for a celestial event in the early hours of June 30, when the Moon and Mars will appear unusually close to each other in what astronomers call a conjunction. While such alignments between the Moon and planets occur regularly, this particular one stands out for its timing as Mars edges closer to its opposition later this year, gradually becoming brighter in the night sky.

In this phenomena, in the pre-dawn hours, observers with clear skies may witness a slender crescent Moon paired with the reddish glow of Mars, both positioned in the same region of the sky — separated by just about 3 degrees. Although the two bodies are actually million of kilometres apart, they will appear side by side from Earth due to a quirk of orbital alignment.

Despite the event's potential, seasoned skywatchers and experts caution that those in Bengaluru and much of India may miss out due to monsoon conditions. "Cloud cover and moisture-laden air during the early mornings can obscure the eastern horizon where the Moon and Mars will rise," said an official from the Indian Institute of Astrophysics (IIA), adding that even a thin veil of clouds can completely wash out the view of the crescent Moon."

A conjunction happens when two celestial bodies appear to align in the sky from Earth's perspective. In this case, the Moon, which moves faster along its orbit, catches up and passes near Mars in the background sky. Such close approaches often go unnoticed, but when they involve bright planets and occur during dark-sky hours - like this one - they can create dramatic views. "This conjunction is unique because of the geometry involved — the thin waning crescent Moon rising shortly before dawn, with Mars just above it, makes for a particularly delicate arrangement," an official from the IIA said, adding that such well-positioned conjunctions are infrequent.

While Moon-planet conjunctions are common, most are either obscured by daylight, occur too close to the horizon, or involve planets that are faint or too close to the Sun. What makes the June 30 event rare is a combination of factors - Mars is steadily brightening, the Moon is in a delicate crescent phase, and the timing - just before sunrise - provides a dark enough sky for good contrast, a senior official from the Jawaharlal Nehru Planetarium explained.

VC says infra work at BU fully compliant with regulations, eco-harm claims misleading

Bengaluru: Refuting concerns regarding environmental damage caused by new construction under the Centre's PM-USHA scheme, Bangalore University on Friday clarified that the ongoing infrastructure works at its Jnana Bharathi campus are fully compliant with environmental regulations and are aimed at meeting the academic and research needs of students through sustainable planning. Clarifying allegations regarding tree felling, Vice-Chancellor Dr Jayakara SM, at a press conference, stated that the proposed construction site is not part of its bio-park or any ecologically sensitive zone. "The area comprises mainly Eucalyptus (Nilgiri) and Acacia trees — species that are not rare or endangered. Of the 419 trees at the site, only 282 may be removed, including 169 Nilgiri trees. The remaining 137 trees, located in the buffer zone, will be preserved, and smaller trees will be relocated to nearby areas," the VC said. Dr Jayakara added that the claims raised by a few individuals about ecological harm are misleading and ignore the broader context of sustainable development and infrastructure needs. "In accordance with the Karnataka Preservation of Trees Act, 1976, the university will plant ten saplings for every tree removed," Dr Jayakara said. ENS

28TH June : Today is special to Saturn, a favourite planet of many writers. Traditionally it rules 'melancholy', a state of mind which leads us to serious and often solitary activities, and sometimes great spiritual awareness. Some astrologers say that mystics, hermits and seekers after enlightenment are Saturnine people. If this includes you, then today is your day!

ARIES
(Mar 21 - Apr. 20)
A word about your physical well-being: you seem to be in danger of pushing yourself hard and wearing yourself out. You are particularly susceptible to excess and indulgence, which includes fanatical dieting. Remember the golden rule - all things in moderation.

TAURUS
(Apr. 21 - May 21)
Your romantic stars are strong, and you are inclined to group a number of feelings under the general heading of 'being in love', but you may not be right. You have other desires which must now be met, such as the need for material security and emotional certainty.

GEMINI
(May 22 - June 21)
Circumstances beyond your control now require improvements at home. The pressure to move to somewhere more spacious or luxurious will soon be intense, much of it coming from your personal irritation with close partners. However, if you take the necessary deci-sions then other people's opinions and actions will cease bothering you.

CANCER
(June 22 - July 23)
The legacy of the past, perhaps only of recent days, may be keeping you busy. The warning not to overdo it stands, but nobody can question the amount you have on your plate. Perhaps assistance will be more readily forthcoming when you mix with new people rather than the same old faces.

LEO
(July 24 - Aug. 23)
As the hours pass, your planetary picture begins to look increasingly mature and responsible, and less concerned with 'having fun'. That's why your entertainment requirements may therefore veer towards the highbrow or cultural, and an expensive evening out could be a fine idea.

VIRGO
(Aug. 24 - Sept. 23)
If you are to seize the moment, you must be in the right place at the right time. Your biggest asset at the moment is enthusiasm, the greatest failing is complacency. Deal with children and younger people in a firm but fair manner, offering them appropriate encouragement whenever you can.

LIBRA
(Sept. 24 - Oct. 23)
Not a single emotional compromise or concession should be made until family members have been consulted, and that might not be possible until another few days have passed. You can begin to consider the potential of a possible new financial venture, consulting the experts whenever necessary.

SCORPIO
(Oct. 24 - Nov. 22)
Venus, planet of love and of victory in war, is now forming a fresh alignment with your sign, giving you the edge in all personal considerations. Save some time for serious discussions over long-term family matters, as people you live with need to hear your opinions.

SAGITTARIUS
(Nov. 23 - Dec. 22)
The whole situation is looking considerably more certain than even a short while ago. At least now you should have the confidence to move ahead, perhaps because the financial situation will soon be more secure, but also because someone who was critical will soon soften their tone.

CAPRICORN
(Dec. 23 - Jan. 20)
Hidden truths are about to be revealed. A mystery will soon be solved, a lost item found, and a rumour proved false. You may also soon realise just how a dream may be put into practice, although precise plans may have to be left until later.

AQUARIUS
(Jan. 21 - Feb. 19)
Venus, planet of love, now shifts the emotional goal posts. It looks as if you will be making more demands on people, perhaps because you are ambitious on their behalf, perhaps because you wish them to live your life for you. Don't be surprised if they don't see eye-to-eye.

PISCES
(Feb. 20 - Mar 20)
There is much to be said for giving other people a wide berth, particularly authority figures, or worse, people who imagine they are in authority. Your social stars pick up when the Moon adjusts its position, and you may even be on course for an unexpected invitation.

CM PULLS UP POLICE TOP BRASS OVER STADIUM STAMPEDE

'If senior officer conveyed accurate info, we could've cancelled it'

EXPRESS NEWS SERVICE
@Bengaluru

WHEN a chief minister speaks, the subordinates listen.

"I've been an MLA since 1983 and have served as Chief Minister before. I have never witnessed such a delay in response in an incident like the recent stampede in Bengaluru. What is the purpose of having an intelligence department if it fails to provide comprehensive and timely information? Due to this lapse, 11 people lost their lives. On the day of the stampede, deaths had occurred as early as 3.50 pm. Yet, accurate information was not conveyed. Isn't this a serious lapse? Even when I inquired at 5.45 pm, I was told only one person had died. By then, 11 people had already passed away. If the senior officer had promptly conveyed accurate information, we could have cancelled the stadium event. I am also upset that we had to suspend senior officials. But isn't it true that there was indeed a failure on their part?" Chief Minister Siddaramaiah asked top police officers during the annual conference of senior police officers in Bengaluru on Friday.

Noting that the quality of police investigations has deteriorated and needs to be improved, the CM cited the example of a robbery case in Bidar and expressed concern that though the accused was identified, the arrest had not been made even after five months. Though in some isolated cases the quality of investigation has improved, overall there is a visible decline.

He pointed out the failure to file chargesheets accurately, effectively, and within the stipulated time in criminal cases, terming it unacceptable.

'Why only Mangaluru?'

The Chief Minister sharply questioned officials, asking why suo motu action is not being taken against those delivering hate speeches or disturbing public peace.

"If you don't act, we'll be compelled to take action against you," he warned. "Why is it that communal clashes and murders are primarily happening in Dakshina Kannada? Why not in other districts?" he asked, directing officials to identify and crack down on those disrupting peace in Dakshina Kannada, regardless of who they are, and to take strict legal action. The CM added that the recruitment will begin two months from now to fill vacant positions in the department.

Report released

A research report titled "A Study on the Use of Money Mules in Cybercrimes" was released by the CM during the conference.

A special team was formed by the Cybercrime Investigation, Training and Research Centre (CCITR) of the CID to study the widespread use of fake bank accounts (Mule Accounts) for illegal money transfers in cybercrime cases and to recommend measures to curb them. The team comprised experts from the Data Security Council of India (DSCI), representatives from the banking sector, senior police officers and investigators.

As part of the study, complaints received on the National Crime Records Bureau(NCRB) portal in Karnataka during the year 2024 and cybercrime cases registered in Bengaluru city were consolidated and analyzed. The research report details recent cybercrime methods, the modus operandi of cyber criminals in transferring money, types of fake bank accounts, and existing regulations to control them. It also recommends measures to be followed by banks and other financial institutions, measures to be followed by police and other law enforcement agencies and measures to be taken by the government and regulators.

Time to hit the road: Dr G to traffic DCPs

EXPRESS NEWS SERVICE
@ Bengaluru

TRAFFIC DCPs should come out of their office comforts and be on the streets for two hours in the morning and evening, Karnataka Home Minister Dr G Parameshwara has said. "Specific DCPs have been appointed for the traffic division, but they are not functioning properly. This issue needs more attention," the minister said at the annual conference of senior police officers in the State Police Headquarters in Bengaluru on Friday.

Dr Parameshwara also said that strict action is not being taken against those spreading hate speech and defamatory content on social media. "Are you unaware of the dangers this has caused? Should we just remain silent while such incidents occur?" he questioned officials, saying that new laws are being introduced to take action against those spreading hate speech and inciting violence. These laws will empower the police to control such incidents more effectively, he added.

"Karnataka currently ranks 15th in the country in terms of crime rate. We must aim to move to the 20th position — the crime rate must come down. Ganja is easily available to college students. It is not enough to just arrest the peddlers — letting off the consumers in these drug cases is not right. If drug abuse is not completely controlled, we will face serious consequences in the future," he warned.

"In Bengaluru, bike wheeling has become a growing menace. Should the High Court instruct the police to stop this? Youths perform wheelies at 3 am. If this is not controlled, it will become a serious issue," he warned.

He also expressed concern over an increase in illegal Bangladeshi immigrants in Karnataka. "If this is neglected and not brought under control, it will cause major problems. Illegal immigration must be taken seriously," he said.

"The Communal Violence Control Force has been set up with a good intention. It must be made effective. Police must take keen interest and lead from the front. There must be fear among those inciting communal violence," he added.

"Police intelligence is not being used effectively. If senior police officials do not receive timely intelligence, how can action be taken? Crucial information must be shared with relevant officers. It is not appropriate to use Special Branch personnel for unrelated duties," he added.

Slouch hats to be replaced?

Home Minister Dr G Parameshwara also inspected caps used by the police constables of various states, including Karnataka, Telangana, Andhra Pradesh, Delhi, Goa, Maharashtra and Kerala. There are discussions in the department to change the British-era slouch hats worn by the police constables in Karnataka. The Home Department is yet to take a call on the redesigned police hats for the constables.

Siddu releases booklet on 'Mane Manege Police'

EXPRESS NEWS SERVICE @Bengaluru

TO build public trust for the police, Chief Minister Siddaramaiah released a booklet on the 'Mane Manege Police' (door-to-door police) initiative at the annual senior police officers' conference on Friday. The initiative, aimed at improving police-public relations and redressing citizens' concerns amicably, was launched by Home Minister G Parameshwara a few months ago.

The programme, implemented by the state police department, aims to establish direct communication between police personnel and citizens at the local level. Police officials will visit homes regularly, interact with residents, address grievances, and raise awareness on key issues such as drug abuse, cybercrime, women's safety and legal rights.

According to a press release, the initiative highlighted several benefits like early identification of suspicious activities, strengthened community ties, improved peace and order, quicker disaster response, and active citizen participation in public safety. It also seeks to transform the image of the police from one of fear to that of a trusted ally. Officers will inform citizens about the dangers of drugs, fake news, and online fraud while promoting community participation in public safety. The programme marks a shift from 'reactive policing' which responds only after complaints are filed to 'proactive policing' that seeks to prevent crime before it occurs. By promoting trust and cooperation, the department hopes to foster a secure and informed society.

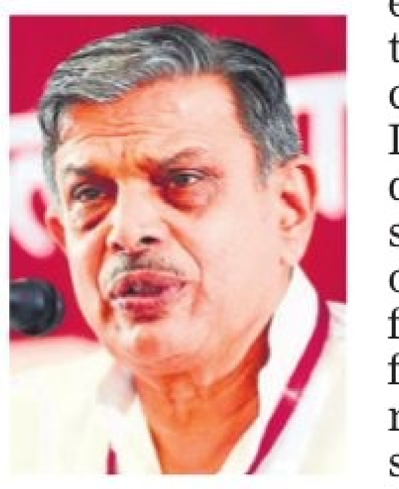
Cong won't allow rewriting of Constitution: CM

Siddaramaiah slams Hosabale for pitching for removal of 'socialist', 'secular' words from the Preamble

EXPRESS NEWS SERVICE
@ Bengaluru

KARNATAKA Chief Minister Siddaramaiah on Friday hit out at RSS General Secretary Dattatreya Hosabale for pitching for the removal of the terms 'socialist' and 'secular' from the Preamble of the Constitution.

"This is not a casual remark. It is part of a long-standing agenda to reshape India's democracy in their ideological image," Siddaramaiah said, adding that the statement has come from a leader of the RSS, which is like the high command for the BJP. "I urge Prime Minister Narendra Modi to express his views in this regard to the nation," Siddaramaiah added.



The CM said that when the Constitution was formed, the words 'socialist' and 'secular' were not there in the Preamble. But then, RSS started targeting on secularism and socialism, and the then PM Indira Gandhi had to amend and included these two words, which has been accepted by people," he said.

The CM alleged that RSS refused to accept the Constitution when it was adopted. "Then RSS chief MS Golwalkar praised the Manusmriti as a more authentic guide for India's culture and rejected democracy and equality as Western imports. This is the organisation now claiming to protect Indian values," Siddaramaiah added. He said before asking others to apologise for history, RSS must first explain why it rejected the very Constitution that protects the rights of all Indians today.

Further, the CM said that in the recent elections, BJP leaders openly said they needed 400 seats to rewrite the Constitution. "The people of India saw through that agenda - and gave them a resounding answer. Congress will stand like a rock against any attempt to weaken or rewrite the Constitution. We will defend its values - secularism, social justice, and democracy - with full strength and conviction," he added.

Meanwhile, BJP hit out at Siddaramaiah and said CM's obsessive hatred for RSS-BJP only exposes his deep fear and insecurity towards a nationalist organisation that has actually stood up for India's Constitution, unlike the Congress, which has repeatedly tried to rewrite, distort, and destroy it.

In its social media X, the Karnataka BJP said that, "It was RSS-BJS that stood their ground during Indira Gandhi's Emergency, while your party jailed citizens, crushed dissent, & dismantled fundamental rights. From Nehru to Indira, Rajiv to Sonia, your party has consistently abused constitutional power, rigging institutions, suppressing democracy and weakening justice." The BJP said that RSS and BJP will continue to safeguard the Constitution, will continue to stand with Dalits, Adivasis and will never allow the "Gandhis to hijack India's democracy again".

Govt forcibly acquiring forest land, says Chalavadi

EXPRESS NEWS SERVICE
@ Bengaluru

AS the State Government initiates action to reclaim encroached forest land, a fierce political row has erupted, with Leader of Opposition in the Council, Chalavadi Narayanaswamy, alleging that authorities are forcibly attempting to reacquire land valued at nearly Rs 7,000 crore — land he claims belongs to Dalit families. Addressing the media at Vidhana Soudha, Narayanaswamy accused the government of betraying Dalits by targeting their homes and livelihoods under the pretext of forest land reclamation.

The land in question-around 711 acres in Kadugodi 200 village, Bidarahalli Hobli, Mahadevapura constituency-was reportedly "sanctioned" to local farmers in the 1950s and subsequently distributed among Dalits and marginalised farmers through cooperative societies. Though it was originally classified as forest land, Narayanaswamy insisted it had later been converted to revenue land.

However, Forest Minister Eshwar Khandre strongly rebutted these claims.

Speaking to TNIE, he said, "Once a land is notified as forest land, it remains forest forever. It cannot be granted, sold, or used for non-forest activities without approval from the Government of India or the Supreme Court. Any responsible person should understand this simple fact."

Narayanaswamy alleged that the reclassification of the land as forest property was abrupt and strategically timed to facilitate its takeover. "How can land already allotted to KSSIDC, Metro Rail, Railways, and even temples now suddenly be termed forest land?" he asked. Despite a court order upholding status quo and staying demolition, reports have emerged of homes and structures being razed.

Narayanaswamy claimed over 2,000 houses and more than 5,000 residents-mostly Dalits-are affected. He accused the police of using force to evict residents in defiance of legal protection. "This is nothing short of hooliganism," he said.

Demanding transparency, Narayanaswamy called for a white paper on all land allotments and transactions since 1950 and warned of statewide agitation if the government continues what he termed a "coercive and unlawful" land grab. "Investigate the matter and publish the white paper," he urged.

Siddu agrees there'll be change after Sept, but says won't be 'revolutionary'

DEVARAJ B HIREHALLI @ Bengaluru

WHILE slightly agreeing with the opinions of his close associates and cabinet colleagues that there would be considerable political developments after September, Chief Minister Siddaramaiah on Friday clarified that these changes will not be revolutionary as suggested by some.

"Cooperation Minister KN Rajanna said there could be developments in state politics but did not specify what. Rajanna's statement deserves to be ignored. I am not a journalist to interpret it," Siddaramaiah told reporters at Vidhana Soudha in the company of Deputy Chief Minister DK Shivakumar on the sidelines of Nadaprabhu Kempegowda Jayanti.

Siddaramaiah's Man Friday and PWD minister Satish Jarkiholi, a strong contender for the KPCC president post, admitted on Thursday that there will be some change in October-November, especially with regards to cabinet reshuffle.

Sources said Siddaramaiah is keen to get the high command's approval for the cabinet rejig and hopes it will happen in September, a month before he completes two-and-a-half years as CM.

On Friday, Rajanna reiterated his Thursday's statement that there would be enormous changes and said politics is not stagnant water. "I am predicting a cabinet reshuffle, while others about a change in the KPCC president post and even change in the CM post," he said.

Sources said CM Siddaramaiah is keen to get the Congress high command's approval for the cabinet rejig and hopes it will happen in September | NAGARAJA GADEKAL

Home Minister Dr G Parameshwara said that though he had no information about any revolutionary change, Rajanna might have his own information. Parameshwara on Thursday met Siddaramaiah and also Large-scale Industries Minister MB Patil and discussed developments after the visit of chief minister and his team to New Delhi, where they met AICC president Mallikarjun Kharge, AICC general secretaries K C Venugopal and Randeep Singh Surjewala.

CM to meet PM, Rahul

The chief minister's economic advisor and senior leader Basavaraj Rayareddy on Friday said Siddaramaiah will meet Prime Minister Narendra Modi in New Delhi next week. Rayareddy said he had advised the CM to meet Union Finance Minister Nirmala Sitharaman and Modi to discuss the state's share of devolution of taxes and development when they went to Delhi last week. But the CM did not get an appointment with the PM, and the meeting is likely next week, he hoped.

"I advised Siddaramaiah to be strong as he used to be in his first tenure as CM. He will change," Rayareddy said, replying to Minister KN Rajanna's statement that Siddaramaiah is not like he was before as there are many power centres this time.

Sources said Siddaramaiah is also likely to meet Leader of Opposition in the Lok Sabha Rahul Gandhi to get his approval for the nomination of four MLCs.

Not aware of developments in Congress, says HDK

Bengaluru: Union Minister for Steel and Heavy Industries HD Kumaraswamy on Friday said that he is not aware of the developments within the state Congress. "But I did see reports about the Chief Minister's close aides themselves talking about a rebellion," the JDS leader said. Kumaraswamy was responding to Cooperation Minister KN Rajanna's remarks regarding possible political changes in the state in September. "Whether it is truly a rebellion or not, I do not know. You should ask Rajanna or the CM. How will I know about developments in their party?" Kumaraswamy said. Expressing concern over the death of five tigers in MM Hills, Kumaraswamy said, "It is a black mark on the state. There is no information yet on what caused the deaths. A thorough investigation must be conducted," he said. On Leader of Opposition in Assembly R Ashoka's recent visit to New Delhi, Kumaraswamy said that the former visited him at his residence in the national capital. "We are like brothers. There was no political discussion. I have recently moved to a new government residence in Delhi, and he was visiting for the first time," he said.

HC to govt: Tech analysis done for Cauvery Aarti, amusement park at KRS?

EXPRESS NEWS SERVICE
@ Bengaluru

THE Karnataka High Court on Friday directed the State Government and Cauvery Neeravari Nigam Ltd (CNNL) to inform whether any technical assessment was done on dam safety before approving the proposed Disneyland-type amusement park at a cost of Rs 2,663 crore near Krishnaraja Sagar (KRS) in Mandya district.

Noting that an affidavit has to be submitted by the State Government, the HC also sought information from the government on the proposed construction of an open theatre to accommodate 20,000-25,000 people and civil works for a parking lot to witness the proposed Cauvery Aarti near KRS on the lines of Ganga Aarti.

A division bench of acting Chief Justice V Kameswar Rao and Justice CM Joshi passed the order after hearing two PILs filed by K Boraiah and four other farmers from Srirangapatna taluk and also Sunanda Jayaram, a farmer leader from Gejjalagere of Mandya taluk.

They have questioned the May 13 tender inviting proposals from private entities to develop the Disneyland-type project and to maintain it for 30 years. Meanwhile, Sunanda Jayaram challenged the principal approval given by the Water Resources Department on May 3 to CNNL to utilise Rs 92 crore for creating permanent infrastructure for Cauvery Aarti.

The petitioners in both petitions contended that the HC had banned all types of mining and quarrying activities within a 20 km radius of the dam till the completion of a study by experts and the decision has to be taken by the Committee on Dam Safety but the safety of the dam has been ignored by the State Government by taking up both projects.

Advocate General K Shashikiran Shetty assured the court that the dam's safety has been kept in mind while approving the projects.

The court, however, directed the State Government and the Cauvery Neeravari Nigam Ltd to file an affidavit on the conduct of the technical assessment of works of the proposed projects.

The State Government informed the High Court that the tender for the amusement park project is yet to be completed and the tender for installing the Cauvery statue is completed and the work order has to be issued.

Further hearing is on July 23.

MY TAKE

Mental health: Need 'ATCs' to 'hear' their 'Mayday calls'

NIRAD MUDUR
Deputy Resident Editor, Karnataka
niradgmudur@newindianexpress.com

"MAYDAY! Mayday! Mayday!" Captain Sumeet Sabharwal, pilot of the ill-fated AI-171 Boeing 787 Dreamliner on the Ahmedabad-London Gatwick flight route, called out to the Air Traffic Control (ATC) seconds after taking off at 1.39 pm on June 12 from Ahmadabad's Sardar Vallabhbhai Patel International Airport. The Mayday call informed a helpless ATC that the aircraft was not achieving the thrust to sustain the take-off, and that they were "falling". Seconds later, the aircraft crashed into a medical college hostel, turning into a fireball, killing 241 of the 242 individuals on board and several others on the ground, taking the toll to 270.

Each air tragedy shocks people, a sudden and unexpected halt on hopes, dreams and aspirations of not only those whose lives are consumed, but also their grieving near and dear ones. Relationships turn into mere memories of once-shared lives. It leaves a bitter after-taste of experiencing the lives of those known so closely being suddenly nipped in the bud, of lifelines mercilessly severed. A closure without explanations or justifications. This is what makes air tragedies more shocking – that one ill-fated incident can wipe out so many lives in one cruel swipe.

Such tragedies evoke a lot of emotions, anger and frustration. However, there is another tragedy which is in the making, but fails to attract attention. There are "Mayday calls", but not many hear them. They gradually move through a living disaster as they suffer in silence – which, if continued to be ignored, can lead them to live extremely disturbed and quality-affected lives, and worse, even consider extreme steps.

This "tragedy in the making" is mental illness, to which it is most difficult to put a number while estimating how widely it has spread.

Hyper-competition is now embedded and accepted as "part of life". In an increasingly complicated world, in which the double-edged sword of 'social media' casts its negative impacts on sensitive minds, it works like a well-oiled machine to afflict a growing number of people with mental illness. The Covid-19 pandemic inflicted a cruel blow, bringing with it social isolation, job loss, and major disruption to healthcare and education, that made matters worse across age-groups.

Mental health issues are a growing burden in Karnataka with cases of anxiety, depression and substance abuse becoming rampant. Although cases cannot be counted because of its inherently hidden nature, one can feel the increase in cases with a rising number of suicides linked to mental health issues being reported. With no "ATC" to help, they are crashing!

It is not that the Karnataka government isn't doing anything. The state government has established Tele-MANAS centres at National Institute of Mental Health & Neuro Sciences (NIMHANS) and Dharwad Institute of Mental Health & Neuro Sciences (DIMHANS) for telemental health services to be offered to the affected. The state health & family welfare department has developed the mental healthcare management system, called e-Manas, with NIMHANS and International Institute of Information Technology, Bangalore (IIIT-B) to monitor and support district mental health programmes. It has established brain health clinics at secondary care hospitals to provide neurological care and referrals. It has trained Accredited Social Health Activist (ASHA) workers and healthcare professionals to identify and support those with mental health issues. It has carried out programmes integrating faith healing with conventional psychotropic medications under the 'Dava and Dua' programme.

But the same inherent concealment that is characteristic of mental health issues makes it all the more challenging for appropriate counseling and treatment to reach the affected. The challenge lies in identifying individuals with mental health issues. For that to happen, it is the first responders who need to be aware of mental health issues and how to identify them. Close family and friends of those possibly getting affected by mental health issues are the ideal first responders – who can play the role of effective "Air Traffic Controllers" who can respond to their "Mayday" calls by observing behavioural changes. They can support the affected to access help through counselling or medical treatment, or both. They are the best suited to respond to mitigate it.

Unfortunately, there is a lack of awareness about mental health issues among the potential first responders. That has become the biggest hindrance in mitigating the growing problem because it prevents help-seeking and compromises problem-detection.

There are other problems too. Shortage of psychiatrists, psychologists and mental health professionals, especially in rural areas, and the prevailing stigma surrounding mental illnesses only makes it worse. As a result, many of those urgently needing assistance do not get it, creating a treatment gap.

The state government, non-government organisations and health activists have to embark on a determined drive to spread awareness, which is urgently needed for students right from middle-school upwards, parents, employees at workplaces and senior citizens. Without that, those affected will continue to suffer without adequate numbers of first responders – because the latter are the "Air Traffic Controllers" in mental health, who can guide them with "adequate thrust to sustain takeoffs" or ensure their "safe landings", but no "crashes".

BAMUL seeks nod for Nandini outlets at Metro stns

BENGALURU: Bangalore Cooperative Milk Union (BAMUL) President DK Suresh on Friday submitted a request to BMRCL MD Maheshwar Rao, seeking space to set up Nandini Milk parlours at Metro stations in the city. The move comes following a controversy that erupted over letting Amul open its stalls in Metro stations. BAMUL has sought permission to construct kiosks in vacant spaces outside the stations. BAMUL requested approval to establish 10x10 sqft (or available size) stalls as per BMRCL norms, fully funded and constructed by BAMUL based on Karnataka Milk Federation (KMF) designs.

Shah says NDA will form coalition govt in TN

Former AIADMK min says TN not in favour of such formations, BJP says deliberate efforts to create confusion

EXPRESS NEWS SERVICE
@ Chennai

UNION Home Minister Amit Shah's remarks that there will be a coalition government of the National Democratic Alliance (NDA) in Tamil Nadu after the 2026 Assembly elections, has triggered uneasiness once again in the alliance between the AIADMK and the BJP, with leaders of both the parties treading carefully with their reactions on Friday.

When asked about the CM candidate of the alliance in his interaction with a Tamil media organisation, Shah reiterated that the NDA alliance is contesting in TN under the leadership of the AIADMK. The Union Home Minister, however, did not explicitly mention the name of AIADMK general secretary Edappadi K Palaniswami as the alliance's CM candidate.

Though Palaniswami did not react to Shah's remarks on Friday, former AIADMK minister SS Vaigaiselvan said the people of Tamil Nadu have never liked a coalition government in the state. He said that since Shah had already asserted that Palaniswami would be leading the alliance in Tamil Nadu, there was no need to explicitly mention his name as the CM candidate.

Another former AIADMK minister, KT Rajenthra Bhalaji, in Pudukkottai, said Palaniswami would be the CM candidate since he is heading the alliance in Tamil Nadu.

Though BJP supporters shared their happiness over Shah's coalition government remark on social media, BJP state president Nainar Nagenthran evaded a direct response to that possibility and instead said Shah and Palaniswami would discuss and decide.

Speaking to reporters in Tirunelveli, Nagenthran recalled that Shah had already said that a government would be formed under Palaniswami's leadership.

Reacting cautiously, former Governor of Telangana and former BJP state president, Tamilisai Soundararajan, told reporters in Chennai that deliberate efforts were being made to create confusion based on Shah's remarks even though the position has already been clarified. She, however, desisted from spelling out the party's stance on coalition government.

Meanwhile, expelled AIADMK leader and AMMK general secretary TTV Dhinakaran, an ally of the NDA, said a coalition government in Tamil Nadu is definitely possible, while talking to the media in Tiruchy. Dhinakaran pointed out that the BJP, though it had majority on its own at the centre in 2014 and 2019 under Prime Minister Narendra Modi, formed a coalition government and allotted cabinet berths to allies.

'NOT LAPSE OF PROCEDURE'

K'taka HC directs cops to file FIR over medical negligence by pvt hosps

EXPRESS NEWS SERVICE
@Bengaluru

ACCEPTING the request of a man who approached the court seeking justice for the death of his father due to alleged negligence of doctors at two private hospitals in the city, the Karnataka High Court directed the Annapurneshwari Nagar police to register a First Information Report (FIR).

Justice M Nagaprasanna passed the order while allowing the petition filed by Vikas M Dev of Nagarabhavi, seeking directions to the city police to register the complaint, which was not done when he approached the police immediately after his father's death.

"When the sanctity of medical care is breached by alleged negligence, it is not merely a lapse of procedure, but a desecration of the dignity inherent in human life," the court said.

In his plea, Vikram sought directions to the city police to conduct a preliminary inquiry into the complaints dated June 18 and 26, 2024, and call for a medical report from an expert body on alleged medical negligence.

According to Vikram, his father, M C Mahadeva, was suffering from chronic kidney disease. For dialysis, a doctor of a private hospital inserted an HD catheter on February 19, 2024. The same doctor suggested removing it on March 29, saying that it may lead to complications in the long run and suggested the insertion of a perma catheter which is permanent.

On April 4, the surgery to insert the perma catheter, which was supposed to last about 30 minutes, was said to have taken 4 hours. Consent was given by Vikram for insertion on the right side, but the procedure was done on the left side and this change was never intimated to him.

Post-surgery, his father suffered excruciating pain and discomfort. It was found that there was no blood backflow through the catheter.

He was immediately shifted to another private hospital for the corrective procedure on April 5 where he was again operated on. But his condition deteriorated and he suffered cardiac arrest on April 15.

Alleging that he lost his father on account of negligence of doctors of both the private hospitals, Vikram approached the police for registration of crime, but it was rejected by rendering a non-cognisable report while sending him to approach the Karnataka Medical Council.

Battery storage systems must at all K'taka solar plants: Min

EXPRESS NEWS SERVICE
@ Bengaluru

KARNATAKA Energy Minister KJ George on Friday said that battery storage systems must be installed in all solar power plants in the state.

He was speaking to media on the sidelines of the inauguration of a fully automated 5GWh battery energy storage unit set up by Pace Digitek's Lineage Power in Bidadi.

Since 65% of power generation in Karnataka is from renewable energy, storing it in the day and utilising it at night is ideal.

"Battery storage systems capable of storing at least two hours of solar power must be integrated into all solar power plants. Effective storage systems are essential as solar and wind power generation have significantly increased in the state. The storage unit will also help in grid stability and better power management," George said, adding that the Union Government was also promoting storage projects.

He said that although Karnataka's power generation is more, there are inadequate storage facilities. To address this, Karnataka will implement major storage projects, including 2,000 MW through the Sharavathi Pumped Storage, 1,500 MW at Varahi, 1,000 MW at Pavagada, and a 2,000 MW battery storage facility at Rapte. "The Detailed Project Report (DPR) for the Sharavathi project has already been approved by the Central Electricity Authority. The project will be developed between Talakalale in Shivamogga and the Gerusoppa reservoirs in Uttara Kannada, downstream of Linganamakki," he said.

KARNATAKA TO ROLL OUT SMART METERS FROM JULY 1

From July 1, consumers seeking new and temporary connections in most districts of south interior Karnataka will have to shell out Rs 4,998 for smart meters. Officials of Bangalore Electricity Supply Company Ltd (BESCOM) and Chamundeshwar Electricity Supply Corporation Ltd (CHESCOM) said smart metres are being rolled out for new and temporary connections from July 1, as per the Karantaka Electricity Regulation Commission guidelines. The districts in which the smart meters are being introduced include Mysuru, Chamarajanagar, Mandya, Hassan, Kodagu, Bengaluru Rural, Ramanagara, Kolar, Chitradurga, Tumakuru, Chikkaballapur and Davanagere. "Smart metres were first started in Bengaluru on a pilot basis. Now it is being expanded across the state in a phased manner," said BESCOM Managing Director Shivashankar N. An energy department official explained that though the companies involved in the tendering process have been different, all efforts are being made to ensure that the rates of the smart metres are more or less on par. This will be done to ensure there are no discrepancies and further questions or allegations. The implementation of smart meters in urban areas under the jurisdiction of BESCOM, including Bengaluru city, had started on February 15, 2025.

700 injured in Puri Rath Yatra

EXPRESS NEWS SERVICE
@Bhubaneswar

AS Amid the allegations over stampede-like situation due to gross lapses in crowd management during Rath Yatra at Puri, as many as 724 people were admitted to different health facilities, including the district headquarters hospital (DHH), on Friday.

Official sources said, 485 among them were discharged after preliminary treatment while four were shifted to ICU after their condition deteriorated. The DHH also reported two deaths on the day, but officials said those were not related to Rath Yatra.

While a person, who had liver cirrhosis, succumbed while undergoing treatment, another elderly woman, suffering from chronic obstructive pulmonary disease, also died.

The temple city had come alive on Friday with vibrant celebrations and spiritual fervour as thousands of devotees thronged the Jagannath temples to participate in the annual Rath Yatra. "After the ceremonial Pahandi Bije ritual, the traditional Chhera Pahanra was performed.

The pulling of chariots began around 3 pm and concluded by 6.15 pm. An estimated two to three lakh devotees joined the celebration," said ISKCON temple PRO Radhakanta Das. He added that the temple distributed prasad to over 30,000 devotees for free.

Meanwhile, Shrivani Kshetra at KISS also hosted the festival with grandeur. "All rituals were performed smoothly. KIIT and KISS founder Achyuta Samanta performed the Chhera Pahanra ritual around 3 pm," said officials from KISS. More than 50,000 people took part in the celebrations, aided by the favourable weather.

In addition to ISKCON and KISS, the Rath Yatra was celebrated at 56 other locations across the city, including Sailashri Vihar, Dumduma, Baramunda, Patia, Old Town, Rasulgarh, and Vani Vihar. Children were also seen pulling miniature chariots of the Holy Trinity in the Mausima temple area.

INTERNATIONAL WORKSHOP ON LIVESTOCK DISEASE MODELLING HELD

Bengaluru: A two-day strategic workshop under the National Livestock Epidemiology and Disease Modelling (INLEAD) programme was held at the ICAR-NIVEDI in the city from June 24-26, laying the foundation for a robust national framework to transform livestock disease surveillance and response systems in India. Key sessions were held on global and national modelling strategies for priority diseases such as Foot and Mouth Disease (FMD), Peste des Petits Ruminants (PPR), Lumpy Skin Disease (LSD) and Avian Influenza. Deliberations highlighted the need for improved digitisation, data pipelines and disease informatics platforms. The role of private sector innovation was also explored, with presentations on AI-based livestock analytics and integration of private data streams. Held under the theme -- Strengthening Livestock Disease Epidemiology and Modelling in India-- the workshop brought together experts from leading Indian and global institutions, including Penn State University, the University of Warwick, IIT Mumbai, Indian Institute of Science (IISc), International Centre for Theoretical Sciences, Institute of Mathematical Sciences (IMSc), National Institute of Epidemiology (NIE), ICAR-Indian Veterinary Research Institute (IVRI), Bareilly, Institute of Animal Health and Veterinary Biologicals, Bengaluru, and Manipal Academy of Higher Education (MAHE).

Experts seek judicial probe into other animal deaths too

BOSKY KHANNA @Bengaluru

AS the National Tiger Conservation Authority (NTCA) has formed an SIT and the Karnataka state government has constituted a committee to probe the death of a tigress and her cubs in MM Hills, experts and retired forest department heads have called for an independent judicial inquiry into the deaths of big cats and elephants.

Over the past three years, numerous deaths of elephants, tigers, and leopards have been reported. Most of these deaths have been caused by electrocution, poisoning, snares, and other forms of attack. Despite the formation of multiple panels, little or no action has been taken against serving officials, experts pointed out.

Karnataka Forest Minister Eshwar Khandre and other forest officials attend the cremation of the tigress and cubs at the MM wildlife division on Friday | EXPRESS

The NTCA constituted a two-member SIT on June 26, comprising Harini V, Assistant Inspector General, NTCA (Regional Office, Bengaluru), and Thenmozhi V, Assistant Inspector General of Police, Regional Director's Desk, South Region, Wildlife Crime Control Bureau. The SIT has been given two weeks to submit a detailed report to the NTCA headquarters in New Delhi.

Additionally, on the same day, Forest, Environment and Ecology Minister Eshwar B Khandre formed a committee comprising Additional Principal Chief Conservator of Forests Kumar Pushkar, Srinivasalu, a representative from the NTCA, and noted conservationist Sanjay Gubbi. Former Principal Chief Conservator of Forests Avani Kumar Verma said there is a need for an independent judicial probe, as officials within such committees are unlikely to take action against their colleagues. "Many wildlife deaths have occurred over the years, but no official has been held accountable. Several committees were formed, but the outcomes have been poor," he said.

Former PCCF BK Singh said that if the government insists on forming committees, they should include experts and retired forest officials from other states to ensure impartiality.

Dr. Gobind Sagar Bhardwaj, Additional Director General of Forests and Member Secretary, NTCA, said, "Based on regional records, poisoning cannot be ruled out. These are retaliatory killings, as both human and tiger populations are growing in and around forest areas."

TIGER DEATHS: FORESTERS SUMMON COWHERDS, WATCH GRAZERS FROM TAMIL NADU

Mysuru: A day after five tigers were found dead, forest officials have summoned a few cattle grazers and listed those who own cattle as part of the investigation. Sources said residents of Gajanur and surrounding villages will be summoned to know the owner of the ox that was killed and laced with poison which was consumed by the tigers leading to their death. Forest officials are also looking at cattle owners from Tamil Nadu, who cross over to Karnataka regularly. On Friday, forest personnel burnt the carcasses, in the presence of officers and Forest Minister Eshwar Khandre. Chief Conservator of Forests Heera Lal said they are probing whether the ox had died because of poisoning or someone laced the ox meat with poison and dumped it in the forest. Khandre said strict action will be taken against those responsible for the tiger deaths.

Presence of other chemicals to be ascertained: Experts

IN this case, some chemicals are known, but their quantities and the presence of other chemicals is yet to be ascertained. The final Forensic Science Laboratory report is awaited, the expert said.

The first set of FSL reports will be available within three days and the detailed final report will take a week or two, said a senior forest department official, who is part of the investigation.

"After the report is obtained, we will know whether the chemicals are banned or not," the expert added.

The tigress was nine years old, while her cubs were a year old. She was not a lactating mother, but a prime breeding female. She was photographed with four cubs three years ago. But those were earlier set of cubs and not the ones found dead now. The dead cubs were learning to hunt and fend for themselves, forest officials said.

Karnataka forest officials recalled, "In 2017, two leopards were found poisoned to death in Bandipur Tiger Reserve. Three years ago, a tiger was found dead because of poisoning in Nagarhole Tiger Reserve. This is the highest number of tigers found dead in a single instance because of poisoning, in the state." Former Principal Chief Conservator of Forests BK Singh said the forest department has been unable to control doddis (cattle camps set up inside forests) in MM Hills and many forest patches. Doddis have started reappearing and it is a concern. The department must act as these camps are mainly from Tamil Nadu, he added.

Additional Principal Chief Conservator of Forests, Wildlife, Subhash B Malkhade said forest staffers had completely stopped cattle grazing. The issue was discussed at several meetings and the matter was brought under control. This is a clear case of poisoning and an organised crime.

Upa Lokayukta steps in, cook gets pension after 9 long years

YATHIRAJU @Bengaluru

POORNACHANDRA Tejaswi's 'Tabarana Kathe', depicted the struggle of a government servant to get his pension after retirement.

Similar is the struggle of Nagarathnamma, a cook who took voluntary retirement from the Social Services Department after 23 years of service in 2016.

Finally it took the intervention of Upa Lokayukta to get justice for Nagarathnamma, a resident of Maruthi Layout in Maluru of Kolar district.

"I took voluntary retirement in 2016 owing to health issues but I had not got my retirement benefit and pension. Finally, I approached Upa Lokayukta Justice B Veerappa whose intervention made me get my retirement benefits along with a pension of Rs 20.21 lakh now. I am happy that I got justice," says Nagarathnamma.

"It is an unfortunate case. It is against the principles of Articles 14 and 21 of the Constitution. The complaint was filed in June 2023, but the authorities concerned did not take any action", says Justice Veerappa, who passed the order dated March 5, 2025, seeking an explanation from the authorities.

Nagarathnamma with Upa Lokayukta officers| EXPRESS

V Shivakumar, the Assistant Director, Grade-1, Social Welfare Department, told the court that the issue was delayed since the Accountant General (AG) raised an objection. He will propose the papers for disbursement of the pension to the AG within a week and it is for the AG to proceed and clear the pension. Even otherwise, the complainant is entitled to 10 % interest on the amount she is entitled to, he said.

Justice Veerappa directed the authorities to disburse pension and other benefits by May 7 with a direction to send the copy of the order to AG. The government paid Rs 20.21 lakh, including death cum retirement gratuity and cumulative value of pension to Nagarathnamma on June 12.

Odisha suspends BEd, MEd admissions

BHUBANESWAR: The Odisha state government on Friday suspended admissions to the two-year BEd, BHEd, and MEd courses under SAMS for the 2025–26 academic year, following grievances over alleged discrepancies in entrance test scores. According to a notification issued by the Higher Education Department, the State Selection Board (SSB) has been asked to constitute subject-wise expert committees to reverify the answer keys. "Pending completion of the process, all admissions to these courses will remain temporarily suspended," the notification stated. Educational institutions and students were advised to stay updated only through official channels.

24-year-old dies after car mows her down

BENGALURU: A 24-year-old aeronautical engineer died after a speeding car hit the rear of her scooter. The incident occurred at KIADB Junction on Bagalur Road on Thursday evening. The deceased has been identified as Nandini, a resident of Huskuru village in Nelamangala, who worked as an aeronautical engineer in a private firm. She was staying in a paying guest accommodation in Bagalur. The police said that on Thursday around 6.30 pm Nandini was returning to her PG accommodation on scooter after work when an SUV rammed into her vehicle from behind. Nandini sustained severe injuries to her head and leg. She was rushed to a nearby hospital, but doctors declared her brought dead due to excessive bleeding.

DUMPING THREAT LOOMS ELSEWHERE AS INDIA NEARS U.S. DEAL

DONALD Trump has dropped a big hint about signing a “very big” trade deal with India. The remarks, coming ahead of his July 9 deadline for striking deals or resuming ‘reciprocal’ tariffs, offer a significant relief for markets, policy makers and industry. Tariff-related uncertainties have triggered a massive sell-off in global and domestic equity markets, with foreign portfolio investments remaining volatile. While the contours of the proposed deal are unknown, it’s likely that it would enhance economic partnership, transform bilateral trade and lower tariffs, making products competitive across sectors such as energy, agriculture, defence and aviation. It’s also possible that India would gain market share in some American sectors owing to lower tariffs; although the gains would depend on India’s comparative advantage against other countries. The anticipated direct export loss is pegged at $14 billion, amounting to 0.38 percent of India’s GDP, according to a working paper published by the National Institute of Public Finance and Policy.

The export basket might change, too. Some of India’s top 10 exports to the US—including electronic goods and gems & jewellery—may lose market share as competing countries are subject to lower tariffs on these products. On the other hand, we may gain in the footwear, apparel, electrical machinery and toy markets. For instance, according to the NIPFP paper, China, Vietnam, Indonesia, Italy and Cambodia account for 45.5 percent of the total in footwear exports to the US. Even if China is excluded, India can potentially corner a bigger share from Vietnam and Indonesia, which are subject to much higher tariffs of 46 percent and 32 percent, respectively. Similar opportunities exist in the furniture and sports equipment markets, too.

At the same time, a multi-product, multi-country dumping threat looms over India. We should be watchful as China, Vietnam, Taiwan and others facing higher tariffs look to flood us with cheaper goods. While India reduces the tariff deficit with the US, it needs to offer calibrated concessions on select US goods like aerospace components. We should secure sector-specific exemptions, negotiate duty waivers for auto components and electronics, and diversify export markets away from the US, pursuing opportunities in the EU, the UK and ASEAN. Above all, India should strengthen domestic manufacturing, boost Make in India initiatives in key areas such as semiconductors, renewable energy and electronics to reduce import reliance and attract investments.

AXIOM-4 TAKES INDIA’S SPACE DREAMS HIGHER

JUNE 26 is a new red-letter day in India’s decades-long space odyssey. The Axiom-4 mission, with Group Captain Shubhanshu Shukla as its pilot, made Shux (his call sign) the first Indian astronaut to enter the International Space Station, a multi-country collaboration. On another red-letter day—April 2, 1984—Squadron Leader Rakesh Sharma, the first Indian in space, had made history by entering the Soviet space station Salyut 7. Although it took 41 years for India to send its second astronaut to space, the Ax-4 mission has opened the gates for sustained efforts by the Indian Space Research Organisation for our own manned space missions, besides other ambitious projects such as having our own space station and sending manned missions to the Moon and beyond.

This January 16, Isro’s Space Docking Experiment (SpaDeX) saw two unmanned spacecraft attaching with each other in space, making India only the fourth country to achieve such a feat after the US, Russia and China. SpaDex itself was part of Isro’s fourth Orbital Experiment Module, which carried 24 payloads from the government’s department of space and non-government entities such as academic institutions and startups. Payloads from startups were received through the National Space Promotion and Authorisation Centre, the nodal agency promoting space-related activities in the country. That mission allowed the scientific community to carry out various in-orbit microgravity experiments that will help the missions planned for the future.

On his 14-day Ax-4 mission, Shux will carry out seven experiments aboard the space station to study the impact of microgravity and space flight on the germination and growth of two strains of seeds, on the genetic activity of microalgae, on skeletal muscles, on computer screens’ cognitive effects, and on tardigrades, the highly resilient micro animals. The momentum and range of India’s space experiments—involving the government, private startups and the academia—have never looked more intense. That holds a lot of promise for a country planning to send its first human space flight under the Gaganyaan mission by 2027, set up the Bharatiya Antriksh Station by 2035, and send astronauts to the Moon by 2040. So far, India’s space odyssey is on course.

QUICK TAKE

LET’S NOT FORGET GAZA

WHILE the world’s eyes were peeled on the Israel-Iran-US missile exchanges, Benjamin Netanyahu’s government intensified its killing of famished Gazans who were desperately seeking food aid. During the 12 days of bombing, Israeli forces killed hundreds of Palestinians, and then continued apace even after a ceasefire was agreed with Iran. At the same time, Zionist ‘settlers’ and Israeli troops have stepped up attacks on resident Palestinian in the Occupied West Bank. Even if not for the sake of protecting international laws, Western governments should introspect on the recent political reversals that pro-Israel establishment figures have suffered at home. Let cynicism save lives where humanity has lost.

Asking voters to prove their eligibility afresh can disenfranchise large sections in a poor state like Bihar where lakhs work outside. The Election Commission must explain why it’s required

VOTER ROLL REVISION NEEDS SOUND REASON

MANOJ KUMAR JHA

Member of Rajya Sabha and national spokesperson, RJD

THE Election Commission of India (ECI) has announced a special intensive revision (SIR) of electoral rolls in Bihar just weeks before the likely notification of assembly elections. Such revisions, when conducted this close to polling, are extraordinary and must meet a high bar of justification. Yet no explanation, let alone evidence, has been offered for why this exercise is necessary now. Instead, the justification has taken a familiar and troubling shape: vague and unsubstantiated claims about “illegal voters” and “cross-border infiltration”.

If this is not a damning indictment of the ministry of home affairs’ failure in protecting our borders, then it is definitely dog-whistling to create a pretext for the possibility of large-scale manipulation. The pattern is unmistakable and, to the opposition parties, the objective seems transparent: to manipulate voter rolls in a manner that systematically excludes minorities and the poor.

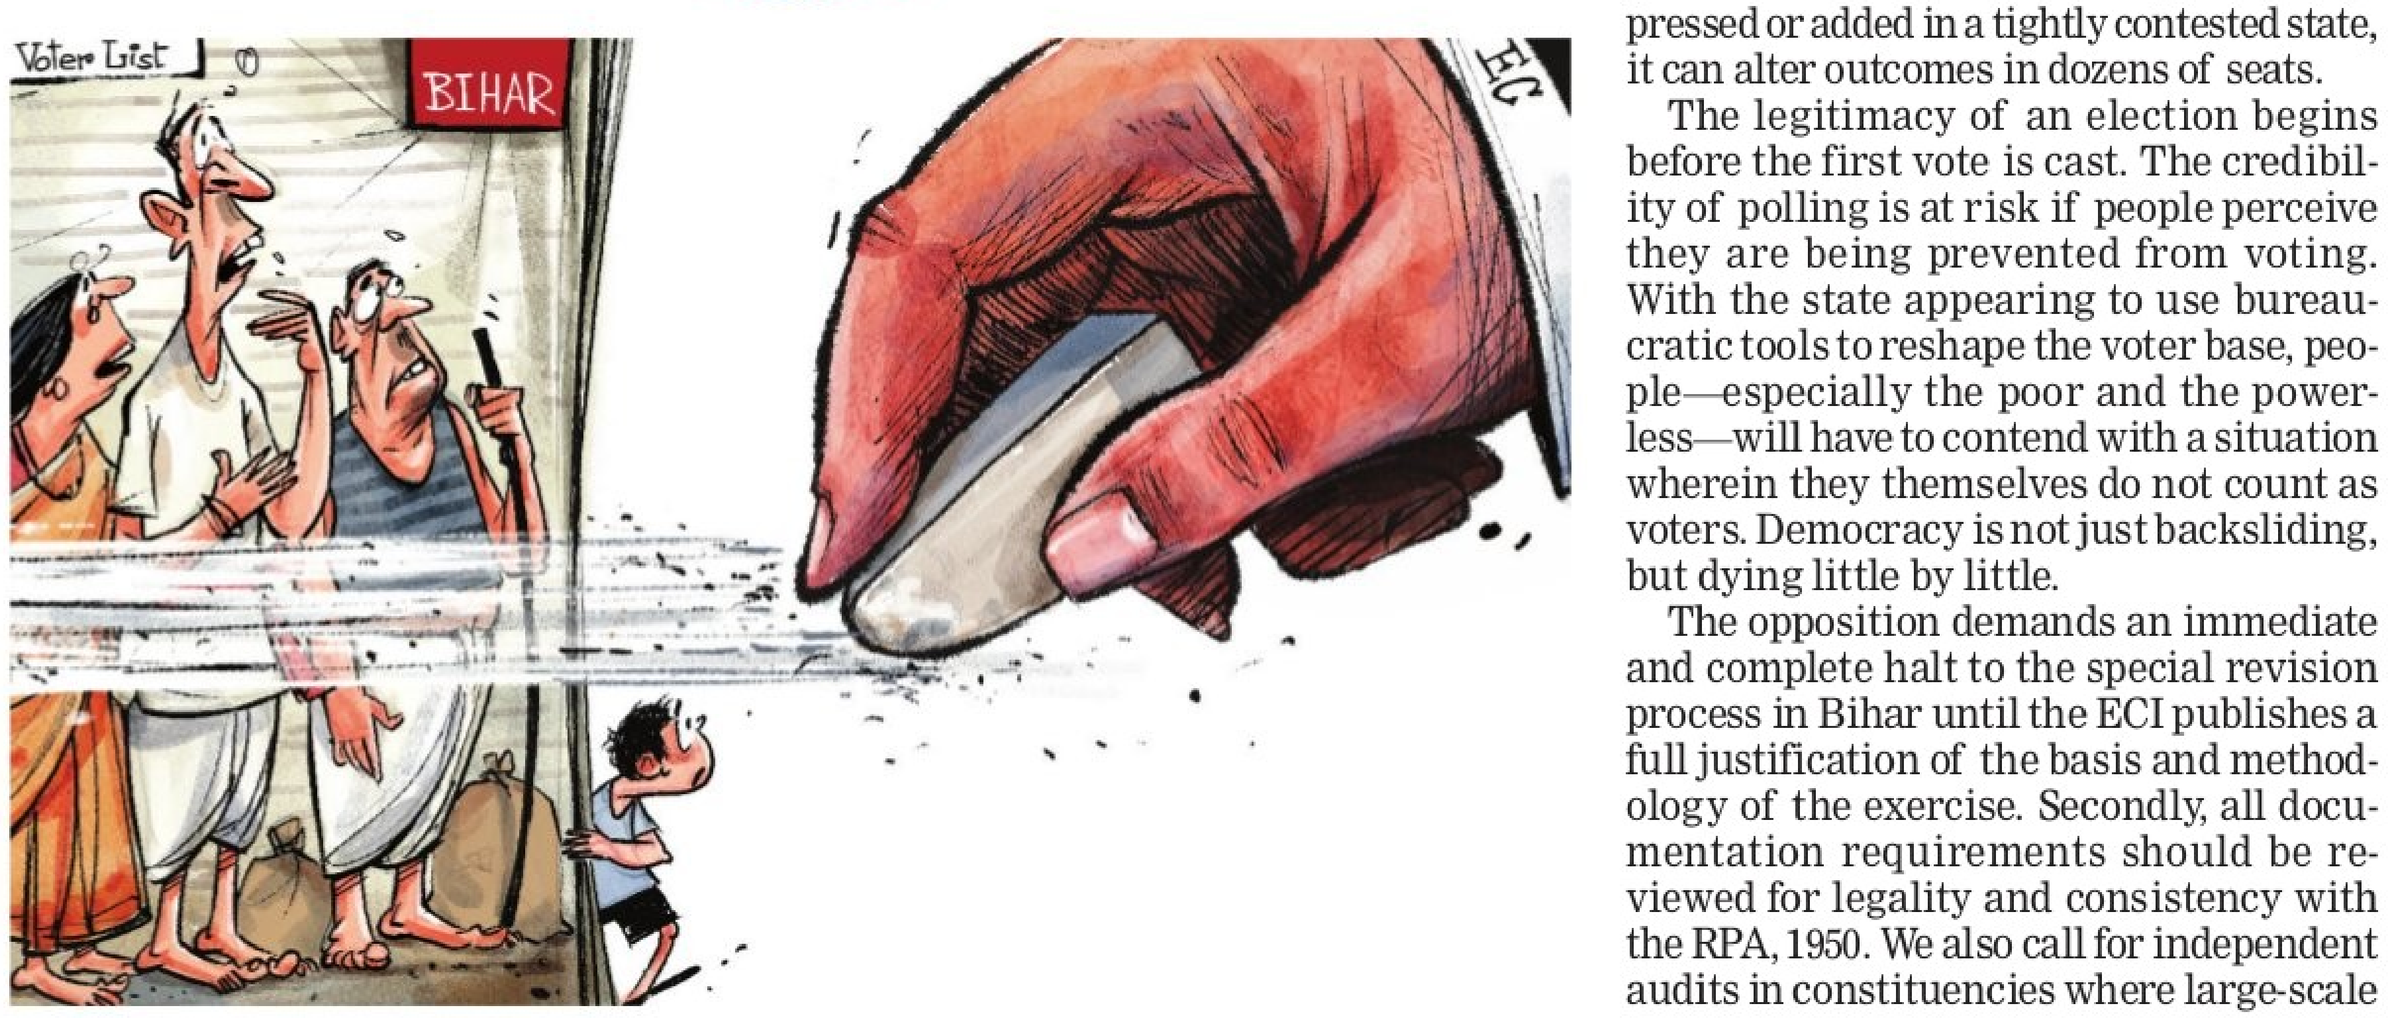
This is not the first time such tactics have been deployed. In the run-up to the 2024 Lok Sabha elections and subsequent state elections in Maharashtra, lakhs of names were added to the electoral rolls in a short period. Opposition parties have raised valid concerns about the sudden spike and the unusually high late-evening turnout surges. The ECI has refused to release digital, machine-readable electoral rolls or polling-day CCTV footage.

Also, ahead of the elections, right-wing commentators and academics belted out dubious ‘studies’ raising unfounded alarms about “illegal voters”. The exercise was repeated in Delhi right before the 2025 assembly elections. No other official data supported these claims.

The fear-mongering in the name of “illegal migrants” or “bogus voters” used to be an ideological fringe position—it has become a tool of institutionalised disenfranchisement. This framing is used to justify aggressive and opaque revisions of electoral rolls that disproportionately target Muslim, Dalit and poor migrant communities. Now the ECI is echoing this language without any evidence and without accountability.

There is a conspicuous absence of data and a deliberate invocation of public anxiety around border security and demographic change. The shift from dog-whistle politics to executive action—particularly by a constitutional body like the ECI—is a dangerous point.

The ECI must conduct a thorough and honest investigation into these allegations if India’s reputation as a democracy is to survive. The Constitution of India, under Article 324, entrusts the ECI with the conduct of free and fair elections. This does not just mean ballot secrecy or smooth polling logistics, it means ECI is constitutionally bound to protect the integrity of the electorate. This integrity is compromised when entire communities are asked to prove their right to vote without a shred of evidence against them.



SOURAV ROY

These allegations are not speculation of losers. Research by Sabyasachi Das has demonstrated that in the 2019 Lok Sabha elections, BJP candidates won a disproportionate number of tightly contested seats, especially in BJP-ruled states. His analysis points to patterns consistent with the possibility of ‘manipulated’ rolls and irregularities in voter turnout data, not campaign strength. Economist Abusaleh Shariff, who was a member of the Sachar Committee, conducted voter roll audits in Karnataka that revealed nearly 20 percent of adult Muslims were missing from the electoral list, while 30-35 percent of Muslim households had only one listed voter. These patterns are not random—they are engineered exclusions.

Reports suggest that verification for the SIR will require individual voters in Bihar to furnish documentation proving their eligibility and citizenship. These requirements bear an uncanny resemblance to the discredited National Register of Citizens (NRC) exercise in Assam, where millions of Indians were forced to dig up decades-old documents to prove citizenship, often arbitrarily.

According to government data, over 70 lakh citizens of Bihar work outside the state. Introducing these hurdles now will not only suppress turnout and bar legitimate voters from participating, but the requirement to establish citizenship by poor Bihar residents and migrants living in other states is designed to produce large-scale chaos, deliberate confusion and fear.

The Representation of the People Act, 1950 lays out clear procedures for the inclusion and deletion of names from the electoral roll. It does not authorise open-ended ‘special’ revisions based on speculative narratives. Any extraordinary revision must be justified by credible demographic evidence, transparent methodology, and inclusive consultation with all political parties. None of these conditions have been met in Bihar.

It is not just about individuals losing their right to vote or padding up a party’s votes by fictitious voters. It is a structural move to tilt the electoral field. If even 2-3 percent of votes are strategically suppressed or added in a tightly contested state, it can alter outcomes in dozens of seats.

The legitimacy of an election begins before the first vote is cast. The credibility of polling is at risk if people perceive they are being prevented from voting. With the state appearing to use bureaucratic tools to reshape the voter base, people—especially the poor and the powerless—will have to contend with a situation wherein they themselves do not count as voters. Democracy is not just backsliding, but dying little by little.

The opposition demands an immediate and complete halt to the special revision process in Bihar until the ECI publishes a full justification of the basis and methodology of the exercise. Secondly, all documentation requirements should be reviewed for legality and consistency with the RPA, 1950. We also call for independent audits in constituencies where large-scale deletions or additions have occurred in the past five years. Furthermore, we demand the release of machine-readable voter rolls, as well as demographic breakdowns of additions and deletions.

If the SIR is allowed in Bihar without this, it will be taken as a clear case of voter base manipulation. It will be disenfranchisement masquerading as vigilance. The ECI must be held accountable—not just by the courts, but by the public, civil society, and every political party that believes in constitutional democracy. We will not allow this abuse of power to proceed unchallenged.

The electorate will bear witness that the opposition parties had to not only counter the programme and promises of the ruling coalition, but struggle to foil attempts to disallow people from voting by the very institutions that had the job of protecting their franchise.

SPEAKEASY

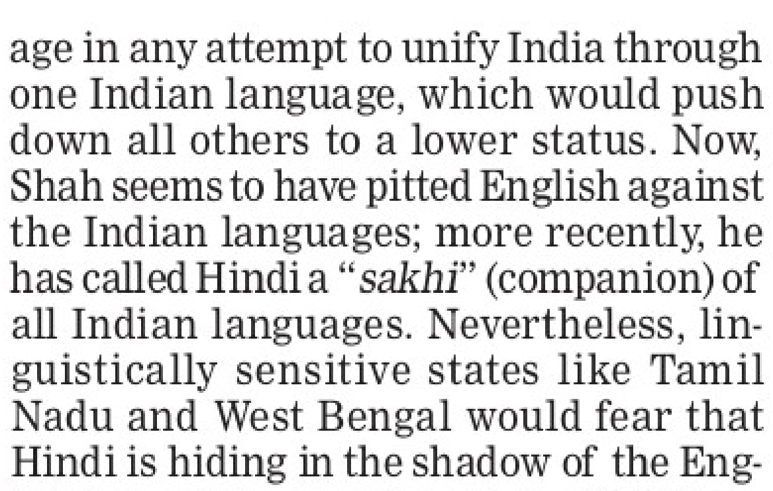
LANGUAGE remains an attractive business opportunity in Indian politics. Union Home Minister Amit Shah joined a long line of political entrepreneurs when he recently said, at the launch of a book by Hindi poet and administrator Ashutosh Agnihotri, that the days of English are numbered, and that English-speakers in India would soon “feel ashamed”. But what exactly was the venture about, and was it a losing proposition?

In the language business, north Indian politicians usually propose to replace English, the working language of the British Raj, with Hindi, the language in which governments after independence hoped to bind together the states, which were demarcated on linguistic basis. Indira Gandhi established the department of official language in the 1970s to give teeth to the Official Language Act, 1963. Its core project was to promote Hindi in the work of the Union government.

The first step was to create vocabularies to describe the functions and processes of government. Words like nyayalaya (court) were not in common use in the 1970s. The Urdu adalat prevailed. And newfangled terms like urja mantri (minister for energy) sounded unnatural. Delhi’s governments had always relied on English, Urdu and Persian to conduct affairs of the state. Now, a new Hindi vocabulary had to be assembled quickly—and awkwardly. The news on state-controlled media baffled millions. State-sanctioned school curriculums featured monstrosities like vismaya dibodhakchinh, Hindi for the exclamation mark. Only a language bureaucrat could have dreamed that one up.

But yesteryears’ monsters are now familiar friends. Across the land, we know what a nyayalaya is. Sporadically, political leaders from Devi Lal to members of the present government have even sought to make technical education accessible in Hindi, But the task of making up a fresh vocabulary is challenging. What’s the Hindi for albedo? For the sternocleidomastoid muscle? It’s better to teach children English, the language in which most of the world’s useful knowledge is encoded today. The children of so many people in government have been educated in precisely that language, often overseas, and they do not want to be ashamed.

In the English versus Hindi struggle, some states sensitive to cultural domination had caught on right away: their mother tongues would become collateral damage in any attempt to unify India through one Indian language, which would push down all others to a lower status. Now, Shah seems to have pitted English against the Indian languages; more recently, he has called Hindi a “sakhi” (companion) of all Indian languages. Nevertheless, linguistically sensitive states like Tamil Nadu and West Bengal would fear that Hindi is hiding in the shadow of the English bogey. The department of official language is today under Shah’s ministry.



WIKIMEDIA COMMONS

> Even if we place poets Dom Moraes and Namdeo Dhasal at two ends of the language spectrum, there were others like Arun Kolatkar and Dilip Chitre who proudly straddled the middle ground with bilingual works. They embodied the multicultural, multilingual country India was expected to be Setting aside the rhetoric, Shah’s main point concerns cultural authenticity. Ever since the rise of the right in the 1980s, we have been told that India can be authentically understood only by autochthonous Indians who spring directly from Mother Earth, like cabbages. Unfortunately, there is some truth in this.

A distressing example: bestselling anthologies of Indian literature mostly turn out, on closer inspection, to be collections of Indian writing in English. No Maithili or Malayalam, please, we’re Indian. It is also true that schooling has divided the nation into a tiny elite comfortable in English, and the majority which identifies with mother tongues. But a handful have also made the effort to cross this man-made border, to see how the other side thinks, and some have learned to settle comfortably in no man’s land.

In the world of Mumbai poetry, we could place Dom Moraes at one end of the cultural spectrum. He attended missionary school, went to Oxford, travelled the world and was steeped in the modern English poetic tradition. Reading his work, you could imagine the poet gazing upon the rolling downs from the window of a crofter’s cottage.

We could place Namdeo Dhasal at the other end of the spectrum—a Buddhist born in Pune, raised in poverty in Mumbai, a Dalit Panthers founder, poet of Kamathipura and other gritty realities—as very Marathi. He reached English-reading audiences via the bilingual poet Dilip Chitre’s translations.

Now, consider the man in the middle, Arun Kolatkar. He had common ground with his friend Chitre—both had translated Tukaram. But Kolatkar had attended a Marathi school in Kolhapur and went to college in Gulbarga, came to Mumbai dirt-poor but rose in advertising and graphic design, in the orbit of the legendary Kersy Katrak. Like Chitre, he led a bilingual creative life, writing in Marathi and English. And that made him the ideal poet to write, in English verse, of the road to Khandoba’s shrine in Jejuri, one of India’s most deeply layered folk pilgrimages.

People like Kolatkar and Chitre embodied the India that independence was supposed to create—multicultural, multilingual, progressive and not ashamed of any of it. It was expected that depressed communities would find liberation in English (the Dalit activist Chandrabhan Prasad still works tirelessly on the project), and the English-speaking minority would get over the colonial hangover and seek out their roots again. The language wars that pockmark our modern history were never supposed to happen—at all.

'Charade at Pak's behest': India turns down 'Illegal' Indus award

Court of Arbitration has neither jurisdiction nor legitimacy, its decision null & void: MEA

JAYANTH JACOB @ New Delhi

INDIA on Friday categorically rejected a recent "supplemental award" issued by what it described as an "illegal" Court of Arbitration purportedly set up under the 1960 Indus Waters Treaty, calling the panel's formation a violation of the very pact and its rulings "void and without legal standing."

In a strongly-worded five-point statement, the Ministry od External Affairs (MEA) said the so-called Court of Arbitration — reportedly acting on complaints by Pakistan over India's Kishenganga and Ratle hydroelectric projects in Jammu and Kashmir — has no jurisdiction or legitimacy.

"Today, the illegal Court of Arbitration, purportedly constituted under the Indus Waters Treaty 1960, albeit in brazen violation of it, has issued what it characterises as a 'supplemental award' on its competence concerning the Kishenganga and Ratle hydroelectric projects in the Indian Union Territory of Jammu and Kashmir," the MEA said.

India asserted that it has never recognised the body and considers all its actions null and void: "India has never recognised the existence in law of this so-called Court of Arbitration... any proceedings before this forum and any award or decision taken by it are also illegal and per se void."

> This latest charade at Pakistan's behest is yet another desperate attempt by it to escape accountability for its role as global epicentre of terrorism. Pakistan's resort to the fabricated arbitration mechanism is consistent with its pattern of deception of international forums
>
> Ministry of External Affairs statement

The MEA further pointed out that following the April 22 terror attack in Pahalgam, India has exercised its sovereign right under international law to place the Indus Waters Treaty "in abeyance."

"India is no longer bound to perform any of its obligations under the Treaty," the statement said, adding that the treaty will remain suspended until "Pakistan credibly and irrevocably abjures its support for cross-border terrorism."

"No Court of Arbitration, much less this illegally-constituted arbitral body which has no existence in the eye of law, has the jurisdiction to examine the legality of India's actions in exercise of its rights as a sovereign," the MEA said.

India also accused Pakistan of exploiting the treaty process to deflect attention from its role in fostering terrorism, calling the arbitration a "desperate attempt" to avoid accountability.

"This latest charade at Pakistan's behest is yet another desperate attempt by it to escape accountability for its role as the global epicentre of terrorism. Pakistan's resort to this fabricated arbitration mechanism is consistent with its decades-long pattern of deception and manipulation of international forums," the MEA asserted.

Placing the Indus Waters Treaty in abeyance was among the first diplomatically measures taken by India following the Pahalgam terror attack, which was traced to Pakistan-based terror operatives. The move signalled a clear shift in India's strategic posture towards Islamabad, linking the water pact to Pakistan's action cross-border terrorism.

Prime Minister Modi had earlier summed up India's stance by stating, "blood and water cannot flow together," just the way terror and talks cannot go together.

Modi on 5-nation tour from July 2 for Brazil BRICS meet

EXPRESS NEWS SERVICE @ New Delhi

PRIME Minister Narendra Modi will embark on a five-nation tour beginning July 2 for attending the BRICS Summit in Brazil and engaging with key partners to step up the bilateral cooperation. The summit, scheduled in Rio de Janeiro, will see Modi engage with leaders of major Global South economies to push India's priorities on counterterrorism, economic cooperation, and reform of global governance institutions.

The week-long visit also includes key bilateral stops in Ghana, Trinidad & Tobago, Argentina, and Namibia, a strategic outreach aimed at deepening ties across Africa, Latin America, and the Caribbean.

The BRICS summit will bring together leaders from Brazil, Russia, India, China, South Africa, Egypt, Ethiopia, Iran, Indonesia and the UAE. Talks will focus on global conflicts, multilateral reforms, economic cooperation, artificial intelligence, and climate action.

Prime Minister Modi will also hold bilateral talks with Brazilian President Luiz Inácio Lula da Silva in Brasília to deepen the strategic partnership in areas such as trade, defence, space, health, and energy.

Modi's tour will begin with a two-day visit to Ghana July 2 and 3, marking the first bilateral visit by an Indian Prime Minister in over three decades. He will meet President Nana Akufo-Addo to discuss expanding cooperation in energy, defence, and development.

The visit also reinforces India's engagement with regional African groupings like ECOWAS and the African Union.

From Ghana, Modi will travel to Trinidad & Tobago (July 3-4), where he will meet President Christine Carla Kangaloo and Prime Minister Kamla Persad-Bissessar. The visit, the first by an Indian PM since 1999, aims to invigorate historical and diaspora links. Modi is also expected to address a joint session of the country's Parliament.

On July 4-5, Modi will visit Argentina, where he will hold talks with President Javier Milei. The two leaders will review bilateral ties and explore opportunities in agriculture, mining, renewable energy, and defence cooperation.

In the fourth leg of his visit, at the invitation of President Lula da Silva, Prime Minister will travel to Brazil from July 5-8, 2025 to attend the 17th BRICS Summit 2025 which will be followed by a state visit.

The final leg of the tour will take Modi to Namibia on July 9, his first visit to the country. He will hold talks with President Netumbo Nandi-Ndaitwah and address the Namibian Parliament. The visit highlights India's engagement with African nations and deep-rooted historical ties with the continent.

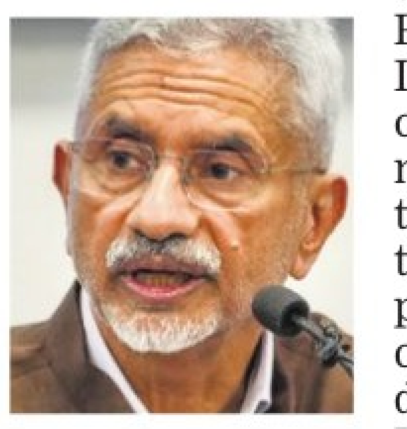
India expected to raise issue of cross-border terror

The BRICS summit will bring together leaders from Brazil, Russia, India, China, South Africa, Egypt, Ethiopia, Iran, Indonesia and the UAE. Talks will focus on global conflicts, multilateral reforms, economic cooperation, artificial intelligence, and climate action. India is expected to raise the issue of cross-border terrorism and seek broader support from the BRICS grouping following last month's terror-linked clashes with Pakistan.

SCO outcome document sans reference to terror unacceptable: Jaishankar

JAYANTH JACOB @ New Delhi

EXTERNAL Affairs Minister S Jaishankar on Friday defended India's refusal to back the Shanghai Cooperation Organisation (SCO) defence ministers' joint statement, saying it was unacceptable that a bloc founded with the principle objective of combating terrorism, omitted a reference to it.



India had sought explicit mention of terrorism, especially cross-border terror, in the outcome document of the defence ministers' conclave, also seeking a reference to the recent Pahalgam terror attack. However, one member country – Pakistan – opposed the inclusion, prompting Defence Minister Rajnath Singh to decline signing the statement.

"When the main purpose of the organisation is to fight terror, and you are not allowing a reference to that, the outcome loses meaning," Jaishankar told the press in New Delhi.

Further explaining the reasons prompting Rajnath's refusal to associate India's name with the document, Jaishankar said: "SCO runs with unanimity. So, Rajnath Singh clearly said if there is no mention of terrorism in the statement, we will not sign it."

At the SCO defence ministers' conclave held in China, Singh pushed for a clear reference to terrorism, especially cross-border terror backed by Pakistan, reflecting India's long-standing concerns over the matter. In response, the Pakistan delegation pushed to insert a paragraph on Balochistan, viewed as a diversionary tactic by Islamabad.

"In the discussion on the outcome document, one country — you can guess which one — said 'no, we don't want reference to that (terrorism),'" Jaishankar said, making a veiled reference to Pakistan.

The SCO operates by consensus, Jaishankar said, and when one member refused to allow mention of terrorism, Rajnath clarified that India could not accept the outcome document.

Russia backs India on cross-border terror, Rajnath talks arms delivery

MAYANK SINGH @ New Delhi

RUSSIA once again expressed its solidarity with India on the terror attack in Pahalgam in Jammu and Kashmir, as Defence Minister Rajnath Singh discussed cross-border terrorism and defence cooperation in a bilateral meeting with his Russian counterpart Andrey Belousov on the margins of the Shanghai Cooperation Organisation (SCO) Defence Ministers' Meeting in Qingdao, China on Thursday.

The Ministry of Defence (MoD) on Friday informed that Singh also held bilateral meetings with the defence ministers of Belarus, Tajikistan and Kazakhstan, with India's fight against terrorism in the wake of Operation Sindoor among the common issues discussed.

The Singh-Belousov meeting included in-depth discussions on a range of subjects, covering current geopolitical situations, cross-border terrorism, and Indo-Russian defence cooperation. The MoD said key topics also included the "supply of S-400 systems, Su-30 MKI upgrades, and procurement of critical military hardware in expeditious timeframes".

Rajnath Singh meets Russian defence minister Andrey Belousov in Qingdao, China | x

The S-400 advanced air defence system has the capability of targeting threats up to 400 km. It was deployed during Operation Sindoor.

The contract for five missile systems was inked in 2018 for around ₹35,000 crore. India has so far received three squadrons of the air defence system, which are operationalised and deployed along the borders with China and Pakistan.

The Russian defence minister highlighted the long-standing Indo-Russian ties which have stood the test of time and expressed solidarity with India on the horrendous and cowardly terrorist act in Pahalgam.

It was one of the critical recent meetings between the two leaders, held in the backdrop of Operation Sindoor and the consequent necessity of augmenting defence production, especially in critical items such as air defence, air-to-air missiles, modern capabilities, and upgrades to air platforms.

Singh also used the occasion on Thursday to separately meet the defence ministers of Belarus, Tajikistan, and Kazakhstan. "The defence minister highlighted the importance of continued engagement in defence cooperation and exploring new opportunities for technical collaboration, also highlighting rapid advances made by India in defence production and achieving self-reliance," the MoD said.

At House panel meeting, MPs flag B'desh's growing ties with Pak and China

PREETHA NAIR @ New Delhi

A meeting of the Parliamentary standing committee on External Affairs on Friday saw discussion on Bangladesh's growing proximity with Pakistan and China, and implications of India's strained ties with its eastern neighbour amid suggestions by some experts on engagement with the country, according to sources.

Former foreign secretary and ex-National Security Advisor Shivshankar Menon, Lt Gen Syed Ata Hasnain, former High Commissioner of India to Bangladesh Riva Ganguly Das and academician Amitabh Mattoo attended the meeting.

The committee recorded evidence of the experts/non-official witnesses in connection with the examination of the subject 'Future of India-Bangladesh Relationship'. The panel is headed by Congress MP Shashi Tharoor.

Some MPs expressed concern that China is getting a foothold in the country, which is strategically important for India, said sources. MPs also pointed out that Pakistan is trying to strengthen its ties with Bangladesh.

One of the MPs suggested that if the South Asian Association for Regional Cooperation (SAARC) can be revived to counter the Chinese bid to grow its influence in the region.The MP also suggested that the exchange of journalists will boost people-to-people engagement with Bangladesh, said sources.

An MP said some members raised concerns about the deteriorating relationship with Bangladesh under the interim government of Muhammad Yunus.

The implications of India-Bangladesh ties on West Bengal, which shares a long border with the country, were also raised by MPs from the state, said a source. The state has been bearing the brunt of the suspected large-scale infiltration, said the MP.

Speaking to the media after the meeting, Tharoor said infiltration from Bangladesh has been reduced now.

Oppn livid with Hosabale remark on Preamble

PREETHA NAIR & PARVEZ SULTAN
@ New Delhi

SEVERAL Opposition leaders, including Rahul Gandhi, denounced on Friday RSS general secretary Dattatreya Hosabale's call to review the words 'socialist' and 'secular' in the Constitution's Preamble, terming it a 'deliberate assault' on the soul of the Constitution.

Lashing out at the BJP and RSS, Rahul said the RSS preference for the "Manusmriti" over the Constitution has been exposed once again.

The response came after the RSS leader proposed reviewing the two words on Thursday, saying they were included during the Emergency and were never part of the Constitution drafted by B R Ambedkar.

"The RSS and BJP do not want the Constitution, they want 'Manusmriti'. They aim to strip the marginalised and poor of their rights and enslave them again. Snatching a powerful weapon like the Constitution from them is their real agenda," Rahul asserted, adding, "The RSS should stop dreaming this dream – we will never let it succeed. Every patriotic Indian will defend the Constitution until their last breath."

Ambedkar never used 'secular', 'socialist': RSS leader

Hosabale, addressing an event on the Emergency, said the Preamble of the Constitution formulated by Ambedkar never had the words 'secular' and 'socialist'. "During the Emergency, when fundamental rights were suspended, Parliament did not work, and judiciary became lame, then these words were added," the RSS leader said.

> The RSS and BJP do not want the Constitution, they want 'Manusmriti'. They aim to strip the marginalised and poor of their rights... Snatching a weapon like the Constitution from them is their real agenda
>
> Rahul Gandhi

> This proposal exposes the RSS's long-standing objective of subverting the Constitution and its intent to transform India into a Hindu Rashtra, in pursuit of its Hindutva project
>
> M A Baby

Echoing this view, Jairam Ramesh, Congress general secretary in charge of communications, said the BJP-RSS attacked Ambedkar, Nehru, and others involved in the framing of the Constitution from November 30, 1949, onwards. "In the RSS' own words, the Constitution was not inspired by Manusmriti," he said on X.

He wrote, "This was Narendra Modi's campaign cry during the 2024 Lok Sabha polls. The people decisively rejected this. Yet, the demands for changing the basic structure of the Constitution continue to be made by the RSS ecosystem."

The CPI (M) stated the inclusion of 'socialism' and 'secularism' reflects the core values for which freedom fighters like Bhagat Singh and his comrades sacrificed their lives.

It said the demand exposed the RSS's long-standing aim to subvert the Constitution and its intent to transform India into a Hindu Rashtra in pursuit of its Hindutva project.

CPI general secretary D Raja said RSS wanted India to be declared a theocratic nation, which is why it reiterates the need to redefine the Indian nation and rewrite history.

CPI(ML) general secretary Dipankar Bhattacharya said RSS's attempt stems from the Sangh-BJP design to strip the Constitution's democratic content. "The words 'socialist' and 'secular' may have been explicitly added through the 42nd Amendment, but the various articles supporting India's secular framework and socialist orientation have all along been part of the basic structure of the Constitution," he said.

RJD president Lalu Prasad called the RSS a "casteist" outfit. "They do not have the guts to cast an evil eye on the Constitution and reservations provided therein. Why are people with an unjust character so full of hatred for democracy and Ambedkar's Constitution?"

BJP appoints state poll officers to oversee organisational elections

RAJESH KUMAR THAKUR @ New Delhi

IN a move towards electing its national president, the BJP on Friday appointed two Union ministers and a former Union and current MP as state election officers to oversee its organisational elections in Maharashtra, Uttarakhand, and West Bengal. These elections are a precursor to the much-anticipated election for the party's national president.

Dr K Laxman, BJP OBC Morcha's national president and the party's National Election Officer (NEO), has appointed Union ministers Kiren Rijiju and Harsh Malhotra, and former Union minister Ravi Shankar Prasad, as state election officers of Maharashtra, Uttarakhand and West Bengal, respectively.

They will supervise the election of the state party presidents as well as the election of national council members.

Meanwhile, a highly reliable senior source indicated that the party is, in all probability, expected to announce its new national president by July 15, after the appointment of state presidents in several states, including Gujarat, Uttarakhand, Telangana, Tripura, Maharashtra, Andhra Pradesh, and others, as part of the build-up to the national election.

Sources hinted that Punjab and Delhi may receive their new state presidents after the election of the new national president. The announcements for Gujarat and UP may take place between July 4 and 11.

The BJP central leadership is intent on completing the organisational election process as soon as possible — ideally between July 15 and 20. It prefers completing the exercise before the Monsoon Session of Parliament, scheduled to begin on July 21 and end on August 12. The session is expected to be stormy, with debates on several contentious issues.

The top priority now is to elect the state presidents for Telangana and Andhra between July 1 and 5. Tripura is also expected to get a new state President between June 29 and July 2.

Oppn flashes pix of rape accused with Abhishek, TMC disowns him

Prime accused was appointed as temporary staff of law college with Trinamool MLA's nod

KAUSHIK PRADHAN @ Kolkata

THE alleged gang rape of a student at a law college in south Kolkata has sparked outrage, with the Opposition BJP pointing out main accused Manojit Mishra's links with the Trinamool Congress, though the West Bengal ruling party has denied it calling for tough action against the culprits.

On his Facebook profile, Mishra, a former student of the law college and a practicing lawyer in Alipore court, has claimed he is the south Kolkata organisational secretary of Trinamool Congress Chhatra Parishad (TMCP), the students' wing of the TMC. His social media profile has pictures of him in programmes of the TMC. There are also his pictures with the leaders of the ruling party.

West Bengal minister and Kolkata Mayor Firhad Hakim denied Mishra's associations with the TMC. "The accused were never associated with Trinamool. There is no connection in any way. I cannot say whether they are supporters or not. There is no connection with Trinamool Congress. Those who work for Trinamool with ideological commitment can never do anything wrong," Hakim said. Meanwhile, BJP leader and Leader of Opposition in Assembly Suvendu Adhikari on his social media handle has posted an old picture of Mishra standing with TMC national general secretary Abhishek Banerjee.

"If I hadn't posted the image, it wouldn't have come out. The party is shielding him. The empire of crime was not established just like that. It has flourished and grown up in the presence of various miscreants," Adhikari said on X.

Though the TMC is trying to distance itself from Mishra, students of the college know him as a close associate of the ruling party. Mishra was also president of the students' union of South Calcutta Law College. Some students, requesting not to be named, said the former president of the TMC unit used to run a racket in the college.

Mishra was also appointed as a temporary employee of the college with the permission of the college's governing body president Ashok Kumar Deb, a TMC MLA. College vice principal Nayna Chatterjee said, "He (Mishra) is a temporary staff of the college. He is an alumnus of this college. The governing body gave the appointment."

NCW takes suo motu cognisance of student rape

KAVITA BAJELI-DATT @ New Delhi

THE National Commission for Women (NCW) has taken suo motu cognisance of the 'gang-rape' of a law student on the college premises in south Kolkata by two seniors and an alumnus with alleged ties to the ruling Trinamool Congress.

NCW chairperson Vijaya Rahatkar has written to the Kolkata Commissioner of Police, expressing deep concern about the heinous crime and calling for a time-bound investigation under relevant provisions of Bharatiya Nyaya Sanhita.

She has also stressed the need to extend full medical, psychological and legal assistance as well as relief to the survivor under Section 396 of the Bharatiya Nagarik Suraksha Sanhita. Further, the panel has sought a detailed action-taken report within three days.

Notably, the incident comes 10 months after the brutal rape-murder of a medical intern at the RG Kar Medical College and Hospital complex sparked a nationwide outcry.

Rural loot busted: Cong leader's son arrested in ₹7.3-cr MGNREGA scam

DILIP SINGH KSHATRIYA
@ Ahmedabad

CONGRESS vice-president Hira Jotva and his son Digvijay Jotva have been arrested in connection with an alleged ₹7.3-crore corruption scam linked to MGNREGA scheme works across three talukas of Gujarat's Bharuch district.

The scandal, which triggered the formation of a Special Investigation Team (SIT), came to light after a formal complaint was lodged at the Bharuch Divisional Police Station. Acting swiftly, police brought Hira Jotva from Gir Somnath to Bharuch for questioning late on Thursday night.

Following hours of intense interrogation, Hira Jotva was arrested alongside Rajesh Taylor, an outsourced employee from the Hansot TDO office. Both are set to be produced in court on Saturday and face police remand. In a fresh blow to the Congress camp, Bharuch SP confirmed that Jotva's son Digvijay was also taken into custody, deepening the party's crisis as the scam unravels.

Bharuch SP Mayur Chavda told the media, "During the investigation into the MGNREGA scam, it was revealed that although the proprietors of the accused agencies appear to be someone else on paper, the real beneficiaries are Hira Jotwa and his associates. They siphoned off government funds with the help of outsourced personnel in government offices and submitting forged documentation."

He added, "Hira Jotwa and his family members, whose accounts received alleged MGNREGA work money, were brought in from Gir Somnath for questioning. Following the interrogation, Bharuch police arrested them. We have also arrested technical operator Rajesh Taylor. Upon examining Hira Jotwa's bank records, it became evident that his son, Digvijay Jotwa, is also involved. He, too, has been detained."

The scandal came to light after the project officer of the Gram Vikas Agency lodged a complaint at the Bharuch A Division Police Station, exposing fraudulent activities by two Veraval-based firms, Jalaram Enterprise and Muralidhar Enterprise.

Sign language elective subject in Class XI

Assam has introduced Indian Sign Language as an elective subject for Class XI students, the first state to do so. Chief Minister Himanta Biswa Sarma hopes it will benefit students with hearing issues. Seventy students have already selected that subject this year. Gauhati University Vice Chancellor Nani Gopal Mahanta described the step as a forward-thinking move. He stated that under the guidance of Sarma and Education Minister Ranoj Pegu, the National Education Policy 2020 aims to promote inclusive education, equipping students with future-ready skills while integrating empathy and real-world connections.

The autonomous Bodoland Territorial Council (BTC) will face elections later this year, and it's no wonder that the political focus has shifted to the Bodoland Territorial Region (BTR) that the BTC administers. Chief Minister Himanta Biswa Sarma, who recently inaugurated several projects in BTR, plans to spend the first week of July in the region. The visit is "less political, more development-oriented", he assures. Congress leader Gaurav Gogoi also visited Kokrajhar, the Bodo heartland, to address a rally. The BJP and the United People's Party Liberal, which are jointly in power in the BTC, and the Congress will contest separately.

Proposed hydel project met with stiff opposition

A 55 MW hydropower project, conceived by Assam and Meghalaya on the Kulsi River at the interstate border, is facing opposition. Thousands of people from both states took out a march two days ago to oppose it. They are concerned about the environmental implications following reports that the project involves constructing a mega dam, which would result in the eviction of the area's residents. The decision on the project was taken by the two chief ministers in June's first week. Assam CM Himanta Biswa Sarma then stated, "Assam and Meghalaya will develop the Kulsi Irrigation project to benefit our farmers, which Assam will fund."

Nainital HC nod to panchayat polls, seeks govt reply on quota

NARENDRA SETHI @ Dehradun

THE Nainital High Court on Friday lifted its stay on panchayat elections in Uttarakhand, paving the way for the polls. The court, however, directed the state government to respond to PILs alleging irregularities in the reservation roster for the elections.

A bench of Chief Justice G. Narendra and Justice Alok Mahra instructed the State Election Commission to issue a fresh election schedule extending the previous one by three days. It also gave the government three weeks to submit its response to the issues raised by the petitioners.

The petitions have raised serious questions regarding the allocation of reservations for Block Pramukh and Zila Panchayat President seats. Petitioners contend that several seats in the reservation roster have been continuously represented by the same category for an extended period, which they argue violates Article 243 of the Constitution and various Supreme Court orders passed from time to time. Representing the state, Advocate General Surya Narayan Babulkar and Chief Standing Counsel CD Rawat defended the new roster.

MAN GETS BAIL

Live-in relationships are against settled law in middle-class society: HC

NAMITA BAJPAI @ Lucknow

OBSERVING that live-in relationships disproportionately harm a woman in case of a breakup as the man can always move on and get settled after getting married, and that women find it difficult to get a life partner after breakup, the Allahabad High Court said "live-in relationships are against the settled law in middle-class societies."

A single judge bench of Justice Siddharth expressed displeasure at the growing number of live-in cases reaching the court.

"The concept of live-in relationship goes against the interest of women since a man can marry even after live-in relationship but it is difficult for the women to find a life partner after a breakup," Justice Siddharth ruled.

"This court finds that after live-in-relationships were legalized by the Supreme Court, these cases are coming to the courts because the concept of live-in-relationship is against the settled law in the Indian middle-class society."

The court's remarks came while hearing a bail plea of an accused named Shane Alam who had been booked under various provisions of BNS and POCSO Act on charges of getting involved in a physical relationship with a woman after giving false assurance of marriage. While arguing for the informant, her counsel Madhu Yadav said the act of the accused had ruined the life of the woman. Taking note, the bench said that while the concept of live-in relationship had found favour with the young generation, its after-effects were seen in the present case.

The bench, however, granted bail to the accused on June 24 this year.

CM convoy gets stuck after filling diesel from MP pump

ANURAAG SINGH @ Bhopal

> Heavy rains caused water to seep into the diesel tank of the petrol pump in Dosigaon area of Ratlam. The vehicles broke down due to the presence of water in the diesel. On directions of the ADM, a probe was conducted by a team of officials.. —Ratlam supplies officer

A petrol pump in Madhya Pradesh's Ratlam district was sealed and a case registered against the pump owner and manager after adulterated diesel from the outlet allegedly caused the breakdown of 19 vehicles in Chief Minister Mohan Yadav's convoy on Thursday late night.

Drivers were forced to push the SUVs off the road after the vehicles jerked and stopped moving. A replacement fleet was arranged from Indore for the CM and his entourage. The CM later inaugurated the innovative Regional Industry, Skill and Employment (RISE) conclave in the district on Friday.

Sources said more than 250 litres of diesel were filled in the vehicles from the pump. Though the pump staff denied the possibility of supplying adulterated diesel, the officials' hunch got strong after a local resident showed them a bottle filled from the same pump with visible layers of diesel and water. The food and civil supplies department staff collected samples and analysed them, confirming the presence of water in the diesel supplied by the pump.

"Heavy rains caused water to seep into the diesel tank of the petrol pump in Dosigaon area of Ratlam. The vehicles broke down due to the presence of water in the diesel. On directions of the ADM, a probe was conducted by a team of officials," Ratlam supplies officer said in a statement.

"The density and stock at the pump was examined, followed by the confiscation of 5995 litres petrol and 10,657 litres diesel. The BPCL sales officer also reached the pump and joined the probe. Three samples have been sent for lab testing at BPCL lab in Indore. The pump has been sealed and a case registered against the pump's owner and manager under provisions of the Essential Commodities Act 1955," the officer said.

Sharing a picture of the incident, state Congress spokesperson Shailendra Patel posted on X, "Adulterated diesel in CM's convoy! 19 vehicles stalled; this is the government they are running. When the CM is himself being cheated, imagine the condition of security, facilities and system for the common man. This isn't an ordinary incident; this exposes the rot in the system."

Elephant at Rath Yatra goes berserk and triggers chaos among devotees

DILIP SINGH KSHATRIYA
@ Ahmedabad

PANIC gripped Ahmedabad's Rath Yatra near Khadia crossroads on Friday morning when a male elephant leading the ceremonial march suddenly ran amok, triggering chaos among devotees and disrupting the procession.

According to R K Sahu, an officer of the Ahmedabad Municipal Corporation's zoo department, the elephant was reportedly startled by loud DJ music and the police blowing whistles while managing the crowd. Overwhelmed by the noise, the male elephant bolted toward the Pol area, ramming through barricades despite attempts by a group of policemen to stop it.

As the lead elephant panicked, two to three elephants behind it also broke formation and began running, heightening the chaos. Around two to three people suffered minor injuries in the ensuing melee.

Mahout Umesh Maharaj, who was riding the lead elephant, said, "The incident occurred when we reached the Khadia area of Ahmedabad. A DJ was playing loudly in front while security personnel and police blew whistles to clear the crowd—something that always happens. But the intense noise from all directions triggered panic in one of the three male elephants. That led to chaos. We, however, managed to control the situation quickly and moved the elephant to a safe location."

The AMC Zoo team responded immediately by deploying two female elephants to calm the distressed male. "Only another elephant can control an agitated elephant," Sahu explained. The situation eventually calmed down, and the male elephant was tied securely near Khadia junction, where zoo staff continued to monitor him.

In the aftermath, officials decided to withdraw all three elephants—the panicked male and the two calming females—from the Rath Yatra. With their removal, the number of elephants participating in the grand procession has reduced to 14.

Iran a big draw for MBBS students from J&K

FAYAZ WANI @ Srinagar

'Families prefer Iran to West for their girls'

Not just youths, but girls also prefer to go to Iran for medical studies. "Families who hesitate to send daughters to distant Western countries are more comfortable getting admission in Iran because of its cultural and religious closeness with Kashmir," said Shabir Ahmed, a Srinagar resident whose daughter is studying MBBS in Tehran.

IRAN has emerged as an increasingly popular destination for students from Jammu and Kashmir aspiring to pursue MBBS degrees since 2016. Each year, over 300 students get admitted to different medical universities in Iran.

"Iran has left behind Bangladesh, which was once the favoured destination of Kashmiri for medical education. In Bangladesh, living expenses are much higher compared to Iran," said Wajid Rizvi of Rizvi Educational Consultancy.

The seven-year MBBS degree costs between ₹20 lakh and ₹35 lakh in Iran. However, with an emphasis on quality intake, the country offers scholarships to students with a minimum of 95 per cent marks. The admission process for MBBS starts in Iran from June to mid-August, and according to Wajid, they are receiving queries from people in J&K despite Iran's war with Israel. Persian (Farsi) is the primary language of Iran, but many Iranian universities offer MBBS programs in English, with basic Farsi taught in the foundation year.

Students from J&K find it easier to pick up Farsi because it's similar to Urdu, which is widely spoken in Kashmir, Wajid said. He said students also prefer Iran due to its cultural affinity, quality of education, and safe environment. He pointed out that even when Iran was at war with Israel, the country ensured the safe evacuation of Indian students by opening its airspace for Indian flights. Not only Shias but Sunni Muslim families also send their wards to Iran for pursuing medical education. "The majority of the 300-400 &K students who get admission every year in Iran are Sunni Muslims," said Wajid.

Girls in large numbers also prefer to go to Iran for medical studies. "Families who hesitate to send daughters to distant Western countries are more comfortable getting admission in Iran because of its cultural and religious closeness with Kashmir," said Shabir Ahmed, a Srinagar resident whose daughter is studying MBBS in Tehran. He said Universities offer secure hostels and a respectful and safe environment for women. "There is a level of respect and modesty in public life in Iran that makes families more comfortable in sending their daughters there," Shabir said.

Nasir Khuehami, National Convenor of the J&K Students' Association, echoed similar sentiments. He said, "They feel a sense of security, and people also feel a cultural connection with Iran. Like Kashmiris, Iranians are very hospitable."

Supreme Court curbs power of individual judges to block Trump's decisions

WASHINGTON

THE US Supreme Court handed President Donald Trump a major victory on Friday by curbing the power of lone federal judges to block executive actions.

In a 6-3 ruling stemming from Trump's bid to end birthright citizenship, the court said nationwide injunctions issued by district court judges "likely exceed the equitable authority that Congress has granted to federal courts."

The top court did not immediately rule on the constitutionality of Trump's executive order seeking to end automatic citizenship for children born on American soil. But the broader decision on the scope of judicial rulings will remove a big roadblock to Trump's often highly controversial orders and reaffirm the White House's power.

"Federal courts do not exercise general oversight of the Executive Branch; they resolve cases and controversies consistent with the authority Congress has given them," said Justice Amy Coney Barrett, author of the opinion.

"When a court concludes that the Executive Branch has acted unlawfully, the answer is not for the court to exceed its power, too," Barrett said in an opinion joined by the other five conservative justices on the court.

The three liberal justices dissented. The ruling has far-reaching ramifications for the ability of the judiciary to rein in Trump or future American presidents. The case was ostensibly about Trump's executive order signed on his first day in office ending birthright citizenship. But it actually focused on whether a single federal district court judge has the right to issue a nationwide block to a presidential decree with a universal injunction while the matter is being challenged in the courts.

Trump's birthright citizenship order has been deemed unconstitutional by courts in Maryland, Massachusetts and Washington state, leading the president to make an emergency appeal to the Supreme Court in an effort to get the top court to strike down the use of nationwide injunctions. The issue has become a rallying cry for Trump and his Republican allies, who accuse the judiciary of stymying his agenda against the will of voters. AFP

IDF probes aid-site firing on Gazans; Netanyahu says no order from above

Comes after 18 more Palestinians were killed while they wait for food

DEIR AL-BALAH

Men carry away the body of a victim who was killed in a blaze following an Israeli strike in the Saftawi district in western Jabalia in the northern Gaza Strip | AFP

AN Israeli strike hit a street in central Gaza on Thursday where witnesses said a crowd of people was getting bags of flour from a Palestinian police unit that had confiscated the goods from gangs looting aid convoys. Hospital officials said 18 people were killed.

The strike was the latest violence surrounding the distribution of food to Gaza's population, which has been thrown into turmoil over the past month.

Meanwhile, Israel's Prime Minister Benjamin Netanyahu on Friday rejected a report that the country's military commanders ordered their soldiers to fire at Palestinians seeking humanitarian aid in Gaza. Left-leaning daily Haaretz earlier quoted unnamed soldiers as saying commanders ordered troops to shoot at crowds near aid distribution centres to disperse them even when they posed no threat.

The allegations followed repeated reports by eyewitnesses and local authorities over recent weeks of deadly incidents around aid distribution centres in the territory, where Israeli forces are battling Hamas militants. Haaretz said the military advocate general, the force's top legal authority, had instructed the force to investigate "suspected war crimes" at aid sites.When asked by AFP, the Israeli military declined to comment on that particular claim.

Netanyahu said in a joint statement with Defence Minister Israel Katz said Israel "absolutely rejects the contemptible blood libels" and "malicious falsehoods" in the Haaretz article. The military said in a separate statement that it "did not instruct the forces to deliberately shoot at civilians, including those approaching the distribution centres".

It added that Israeli military "directives prohibit deliberate attacks on civilians."

After more than 20 months of devastating conflict, rights groups say Gaza's population of more than two million faces famine-like conditions.

The health ministry in Hamas-ruled Gaza says more than 500 people have been killed near aid centres since late May, when a new US- and Israeli-backed foundation began distributing aid.The privately run Gaza Humanitarian Foundation denies that deadly incidents have occurred in the immediate vicinity of its aid points.

Netanyahu and Katz added in their statement: "The soldiers of the (Israeli military) receive clear orders to avoid harming innocents -- and operate accordingly." AFP

IRAN CALLS TALKS WITH US 'COMPLICATED' AFTER STRIKES

DUBAI: Iran's top diplomat said the possibility of new negotiations with the United States on his country's nuclear program has been "complicated" by the American attack on three of the sites, which he conceded caused "serious damage." The US was one of the parties to the 2015 nuclear deal in which Iran agreed to limits on its uranium enrichment program in exchange for sanctions relief and other benefits. That deal unraveled after US President Donald Trump pulled the US out unilaterally during his first term. Trump has suggested he is interested in new talks with Iran and said the two sides would meet next week. In an interview on Iranian state television broadcast late Thursday, Foreign Minister Abbas Araghchi left open the possibility that his country would again enter talks on its nuclear program, but suggested it would not be anytime soon. "No agreement has been made for resuming the negotiations," he said. "No time has been set, no promise has been made, and we haven't even talked about restarting the talks." The American decision to intervene militarily "made it more complicated and more difficult" for talks on Iran's nuclear programme, Araghchi said. AP

Bezos' lavish Venice wedding stirs buzz, bling & backlash

VENICE

THE sky itself is no limit for billionaire Jeff Bezos and fiancée Lauren Sánchez, who have traveled into space — and expectations are just about as high for their wedding in Venice. One of the world's most enchanting cities as backdrop? Check. Star-studded guestlist and tabloid buzz? Of course. Local flavor? You bet.

Beyond that, the team of the world's fourth-richest man has kept details under wraps. Still, whispers point to events spread across the Italian lagoon city, adding complexity to what would have been a massive logistical undertaking even on dry land.

Dozens of private jets touched down at Venice's airport, and yachts pulled into the city's famed waterways. Aboard were athletes, celebrities, influencers and business leaders, converging to revel in extravagance that is as much a testament to the couple's love as to their extraordinary wealth.

The heady hoopla recalled the 2014 wedding in Venice of actor George Clooney to human rights lawyer Amal Alamuddin, when adoring crowds lined the canals and hundreds of well-wishers gathered outside City Hall.

Not so for these nuptials, which have become a lightning rod for small, colorful protests. But any desire to dampen the prevailing fever pitch has yet to materialize. Instead, the glitterati were set to party, and the paparazzi jostling for glimpses of the gilded gala.

Venice is famed for its network of canals, where gondoliers croon for lovestruck couples and even ambulances are aquatic. But water transport of everything from bouquets to guests makes Venice among the world's most challenging cities for a party, according to Jack Ezon, CEO of Embark Beyond, a luxury travel advisory and destination event service.

"It's a very tight-knit community; everyone there knows everyone, and you need to work with the right people," said Ezon, whose company has put on a dozen high-end events in Venice. AP

RAPE CHARGES AGAINST SON OF NORWEGIAN CROWN PRINCESS

OSLO

OSLO police on Friday announced charges against Marius Borg Hoiby, the eldest son of Norway's crown princess, on multiple counts including rape, sexual assault and bodily harm after a months-long investigation of a case that involved a "double-digit" number of alleged victims.

Hoiby, the son of Crown Princess Mette-Marit and stepson of the heir to the throne, Crown Prince Haakon, has been under scrutiny since he was repeatedly arrested in 2024 amid allegations of rape and on preliminary charges of bodily harm and criminal damage.

Oslo Police Attorney Andreas Kruszewski said Hoiby was cooperative during police questioning, which is now complete. Evidence in the case was drawn from sources including text-messages, witness testimonies and police searches, the police attorney said.

The charges included one case of rape involving intercourse and two cases of rape without intercourse, four cases of sexual assault and two cases of bodily harm, Kruszewksi said at a news conference. "I cannot go into further detail about the number of victims in the case beyond confirming that it is a double-digit number," he said. AP

Expression of Interest

The Department of Nuclear Medicine has been known for providing state of Art facilities for the entire range of diagnostic, image-guided biopsies and treatment with radioisotopic procedures (Theranostics). The department caters to the needs of approximately 4-5 lakh patients attending the OPDs of the Institute and approximately 45,000 in-patients of the Institute annually. Annual workload in Nuclear Medicine department in 2023-24 was approximately 8000 cases. Being a tertiary care referral hospital, almost all the cases attending the outpatient clinics are complicated. As the SGPGIMS is having a 12-year-old PET/CT in department of Nuclear Medicine leading to queuing for their investigations. In view of expansion of patient beds and increased OPD attendance, there is a need for minimum one Digital PET/CT 128 slice scanner. SGPGIMS hereby invites "Expression of Interest" from the interested private partners for installation of one Digital PET/CT Scanner 128 slice in the premises of Sanjay Gandhi PGIMS, Lucknow, under Public Private Partnership (PPP) Model for the department of Nuclear Medicine. This PET/CT facility will be only for registered patients of SGPGIMS, who have been advised PET/CT by the doctors of SGPGIMS. For any query, firms can contact Contract Cell of SGPGIMS in office hours. Interested firms are requested to provide their Expression of Interest in hard copy to the Contract Cell, 3rd Floor, Administrative Block, SGPGIMS, Lucknow on or before 15.07.2025 upto 5.00pm by post or personally. Institute would not be responsible for any postal delays.

The Institute will publish bids for installation of PET/CT Scan 128 slice on PPP model on GeM Portal after review of Expression of Interest received for the same.

The Director reserves the right to accept or reject any Expression of Interest in part or full without assigning any reason thereof. In case any legal dispute; the legal jurisdiction shall be court of law at Lucknow (UP), India.

JSW Paints to acquire AkzoNobel for ₹8,986 cr

With this deal, Netherlands-based company to exit the country

BENN KOCHUVEEDAN @ Mumbai

JSW Paints to become major player in coatings space

The acquisition will make JSW Paints, which has not yet been able to make a clear mark in the paints segment even after six years, major player in decorative and industrial coatings space. The deal is subject to regulatory approvals and a mandatory open offer.

JSW Paints, part of the diversified JSW Group, has signed an agreement to acquire up to 74.76% stake in rival and Dulux maker Akzo Nobel India for ₹8,986 crore, marking one of the largest deals in the about ₹90,000 crore domestic paints sector.

The deal involved an open offer and with this the Dutch company will completely exit the country. The acquisition will make JSW Paints, which has not yet been able to make a clear mark in the paints segment even after six years, major player in decorative and industrial coatings space. The deal is subject to regulatory approvals and a mandatory open offer.

The transaction is subject to approval from the Competition Commission and the completion of a mandatory tender offer to the public shareholders of the company.

The deal was in the making for a few years now and is part of the Amsterdam-based company's global recast and had many bids from a consortium of Advent International and Indigo Paints and Fevicol maker Pidilite Industries.

JSW will acquire 74.76% stake from the Dutch promoters/holding entities-- Imperial Chemical Industries and Akzo Nobel Coatings International BV, JSW said on Friday.

JSW Paints MD Parth Jindal said paints and coatings is one of the fastest-growing sectors. "Akzo Nobel India is home to some of the most globally renowned brands of paints & coatings like Dulux, International and Sikkens." AkzoNobel chief executive Greg Poux-Guillaume said this transaction is a significant milestone in the execution of our strategy.

AkzoNobel India has been a consistently strong performer, and we are proud of the brand and talent that have made it a success."

Last October, Akzo Nobel had announced a strategic review of its portfolio in South Asia and was looking for strategic options, including partnerships, joint ventures, mergers or divestments.

This was to deploy capital towards expanding its core coatings business.

Akzo Nobel India has a presence in a wide range of paints and coatings segment.

Current account turns surplus by $13.5 bn

ENS ECONOMIC BUREAU @ Mumbai

THE country's balance of payments (BoP) turned positive with current account balance recording a surplus of $13.5 billion (1.3% of GDP) in Q4FY25 compared to $4.6 billion (0.5% of GDP) in Q4FY24 and a deficit of $11.3 billion (1.1% of GDP) in Q3FY25, showed the RBI data released on Friday.

For the full fiscal year of 2024-25, current account remained in $23.3 billion (0.6% of GDP) deficit, lower than $26 billion (0.7% of GDP) in FY24, primarily due to higher net invisible receipts.

On the other hand, the central bank said the country's external debt rose by $67.5 billion to $736.3 billion in March 2025, which in terms of external debt-to-GDP ratio rose 19.1% from 18.5% in March 2024.

The huge surplus is primarily because of the falling imports during the quarter and stable but low crude prices. And the surplus is nearly double of analysts' estimate of $7 billion.

According to the BoP data released by the RBI, the current account saw a surplus of $13.5 billion during the March quarter of last fiscal because the merchandise trade deficit was only $59.5 billion in Q4 on the back of falling imports. In the same period of FY24, the trade deficit was only $52 billion and $79.3 billion in Q3FY25.

Net services receipts increased to $53.3 billion in Q4 from $42.7 billion a year ago. Services exports have risen on an annual basis in major categories such as business services and computer services, the central bank said.

Net outgo on the primary income account, primarily reflecting payments of investment income, moderated to $11.9 billion in Q4 from $14.8 billion on-year.

Personal transfer receipts, mainly representing remittances from overseas, rose to $33.9 billion from $31.3 billion.

In the financial account, net foreign direct investment fell to a low $0.4 billion from $2.3 billion, while foreign portfolio investment saw a net outflow of $5.9 billion as against a net inflow of $11.4 billion. Net inflows under external commercial borrowings more than doubled to $7.4 billion from $2.6 billion.

SBI plans to raise ₹25,000 cr via QIP to boost common equity tier 1 capital

BENN KOCHUVEEDAN @ Mumbai

STATE BANK OF INDIA (SBI) is looking to raise ₹25,000 crore through a qualified institutional placement (QIP) of shares and has roped in six investment bankers for the biggest QIP deal in India Inc and the first share sale in eight years.

The bank is looking to hit the market within next two months to shore up its core capital as the lender expects accelerated loan demand due to falling interest rate regime. The fundraise is aimed at boosting its common equity tier 1 capital, which in the March 2025 quarter was 11%, lowest among public sector banks.

The bank, which controls a fifth of the system-wide credit, has roped in Citigroup, HSBC, ICICI Securities, Kotak Capital, Morgan Stanley and SBI Caps as lead bankers for the issue, a source told TNIE on Friday. These banks have agreed for just ₹1 as their commission/fee. The i-bankers had also charged just ₹1 from the bank in the last fundraise too eight years ago when it had mopped up ₹15,000 crore selling 522 million shares in June 2017, the source added. The i-bankers had also charged a similar amount for the ₹21,008 crore IPO by LIC in May 2022, which till date stands as the largest primary issue in the country.

Mazagon Dock to acquire 51% in Sri Lankan dockyard

ENS ECONOMIC BUREAU @ Mumbai

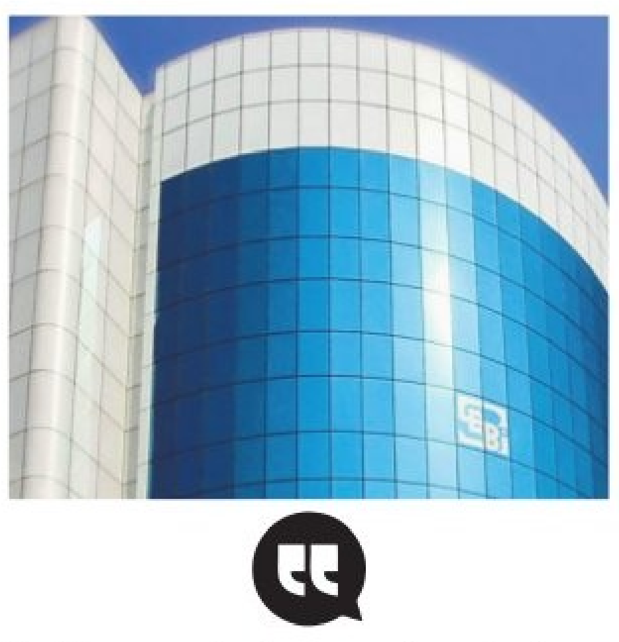
MAZAGON Dock Shipbuilders (MDL) will acquire a controlling 51% stake in Sri Lanka's largest and most established shipyard Colombo Dockyard for a consideration of ₹452 crore, the city-based state-run shipbuilder said on Friday.

"Mazagon Dock has announced a major step in its strategic evolution with the approval of a proposed acquisition of a controlling 51% stake in Sri Lanka's largest and most established shipyard Colombo Dockyard PLC. The investment, valued at up to $52.96 million, will be carried out via a combination of primary infusion and secondary share purchase, including the acquisition of shares from the Japanese owner Onomichi Dockyard Co, the current majority shareholder," MDL said in a statement Friday.

This marks MDL's first global foray and is a major milestone in the company's transformation from a purely domestic shipbuilder into a regional maritime player with global aspirations, the statement added. Strategically located within the Port of Colombo, Colombo Dockyard offers MDL a strong operational foothold in the Indian Ocean region-- one of the busiest and most geopolitically significant maritime corridors in the world. Mazagon Dock has its facilities in the eastern sea front in south Mumbai builds frontline warships and submarines and has played a pivotal role in Navy's modernisation drive. The publicly traded Colombo Dockyard is flagship of Sri Lanka's maritime industry and serves a spectrum of commercial and governmental clients across Asia, the Middle East, and Africa.

Pump-and-dump case: Sebi raids many shell cos

BENN KOCHUVEEDAN @ Mumbai



Sebi has conducted search and seizure operations at multiple locations in June in connection with pump and dump in certain scrips and has seized incriminating evidence

Sebi statement

MARKETS watchdog Sebi has confirmed reports that appeared in a section of the media that it had carried out raids across multiple locations and shell companies for what it considers to be cases of pump-and-dump scams.

"Sebi has conducted search and seizure operations at multiple locations in June in connection with pump and dump in certain scrips and has seized incriminating evidence," Sebi said in a statement on Friday. "Further investigation in the matter is under progress," it added, without offering more details such as the number of companies raided or the value of the alleged scam etc.

Some reports suggested Sebi raided about two dozens shell companies involved in ₹300 crore pump-and-dump' scheme across Ahmedabad, Mumbai and Gurugram. These raids are one of the biggest in Sebi's history in terms of monetary value. The raids mainly involved 15-20 shell companies, which were allegedly created by promoters of some listed companies to pump-and-dump their own shares. At least two listed agro-tech companies, along with their promoters, are said to be at the helm of the alleged network, sources had said.

Generally, in cases of pump-and-dump schemes, Sebi issues an order against the entities. In very few cases, Sebi uses its search and seizure powers against the entities. The scam works in the following manner: promoters create shell companies and register them as proprietary traders that will buy and sell the company stocks later. In the past, there have been many instances where Sebi has gone after promoters of small and mid-cap companies for manipulating their stocks.

In the scheme, entities related to the scamsters first start buying shares of own companies in large numbers to drive up stock price and once the price has gone up significantly, it catches attention of retail investors and manipulators then exit stock at a profit by selling them to gullible retail investors.

In one such case, the Sebi investigators have found the stock price of a little known company rose from below ₹1 to ₹40 in a span of less than a year and then the stock again fell back to about ₹2-3. This happened despite there being any change in terms of business of the company or its earnings, clearly indicating a fraudulent scheme.

SENSEX KISSES 84K MARK, MKT HITS 9-MONTH HIGH

ENS ECONOMIC BUREAU @ New Delhi

DOMESTIC equity markets extended their winning streak to a fourth consecutive session on Friday, with benchmark indices - the BSE Sensex and NSE Nifty - scaling a nine-month high. The rally was fuelled by easing geopolitical tensions following the Israel-Iran ceasefire and optimism over a potential delay in US tariff deadlines.

Sentiments received a further boost after US President Donald Trump hinted at a possible trade deal with India. The Sensex advanced 303.03 points or 0.36% to settle at 84,058.90 on Friday, while the Nifty50 added 88.80 points or 0.35% to end at 25,637.80, marking its highest level since October 1st, 2024. On a weekly basis, both frontline indices logged gains of over 2%. The broader markets outperformed, with the Nifty Midcap 100 and Smallcap 100 extending their winning streak to six consecutive sessions. The midcap index rallied more than 2% during the week, while the smallcap index surged 4%. The overall market capitalisation of BSE-listed firms rose to ₹460 lakh crore on Friday from ₹448.7 lakh crore on June 23, making investors richer by ₹11.3 lakh crore.

HDB FIN IPO BOOKED 16.7 TIMES; QIBs MOP UP 55X

ENS ECONOMIC BUREAU @ Mumbai

THE ₹12,500 crore public issue of HDB Financial Services, largest-ever from any NBFC till date, was subscribed 16.69 times its offer size, as per data from exchanges. The IPO has received bids for over 217.66 crore shares, as against the offer size of 13.04 crore shares, making it the most subscribed IPO since Zomato-parent Eternal's IPO that was oversubscribed 29 times in July 2021. Qualified institutional buyers subscribed the issue 55 times. Non-institutional investors subscribed nearly 9.98 times. Retail investors booked over 1.4 times. The issue opened for public bidding on June 25 and closed on June 27. The issue comprises ₹10,000 crore in offer for sale by HDFC Bank and ₹2,500 crore of fresh issue by the company. HDFC Bank holds 94.3% stake in the NBFC.

CHINA

CENTRAL BANK TO TAKE MEASURES ON ECONOMIC FRONT

China's central bank on Friday said it would adjust the pace and intensity of policy implementation in response to domestic and global economic and financial conditions. The world's second-largest economy has faced pressure this year due to US President Donald Trump's imposition of tariffs on Chinese products and persistent deflationary pressure at home. It "still faces difficulties and challenges such as insufficient domestic demand, persistently low price levels, and multiple hidden risks," the People's Bank of China (PBOC) said in a summary of its quarterly monetary policy committee meeting. The central bank said it will guide financial institutions to step up credit supply, and push for the lowering of overall social financing costs. It pledged to enhance the resilience of the foreign exchange market, to guard against the risk of exchange rate overshooting.

SOUTH KOREA

PRESIDENT LEE SEEKS $22.5 BN EXTRA BUDGET

South Korea President Lee Jae Myung has asked the parliament to approve the $14.7 billion of extra government spending as the economy is in "desperate" situation across domestic consumption and exports. Speaking at the National Parliament, Lee said he will work to seek moderation in fiscal spending as reducing tax shortfall over the next few years will be critical for healthy management of government coffers. Lee was elected in a snap vote this month following the impeachment of his predecessor, Yoon Suk Yeol, over his disastrous martial law declaration in December. The new president's appeal comes as Asia's fourth-largest economy -- heavily reliant on exports -- reels from steep tariffs imposed by US President Donald Trump. In April, the US slapped a 25% tariff on South Korean goods as part of Trump's sweeping global trade measures.

THAILAND

GDP FORECAST CUT TO 1.7% AMID POLITICAL UNCERTAINTY

The Centre for Economic and Business Forecasting (CEBF) at the University of the Thai Chamber of Commerce (UTCC) has revised the country's GDP growth forecast for 2025 down from 3% to 1.7%, citing a combination of global and domestic challenges weighing on the economy in the second half of the year. Thanawat Pholvichai, President of UTCC and the centre's chief adviser, outlined a string of mounting concerns: the ongoing trade war and potential US tariffs on Thai goods, the Israel-Iran conflict, rising tensions along the Thai-Cambodian border, domestic political instability, and the effectiveness of the government's stimulus disbursement. The revised forecast assumes no further escalation in any of these risk areas. The outlook hinges on the US imposing only 10–15% tariffs on Thai products — with negotiations now entering the final 10 days before the July 8 deadline.

Consumption expenditure to pick up progressively on rural demand: ITC

ENS ECONOMIC BUREAU @ New Delhi

FMCG major ITC expects consumption expenditure to pick up progressively led by continued recovery in rural demand backed by a good monsoon.

The Kolkata-headquartered conglomerate also expects improvement in urban demand as inflation stabilises and tax cuts announced in the Union Budget boost disposable incomes.

ITC's outlook reflects persistent weakness in urban consumption, a growing concern for FMCG firms that have faced sluggish growth for several quarters. "The cumulative impact of pick-up in cape in the second half of FY25 and front loading of government capex outlay in FY26, along with interest rate cuts and liquidity support from RBI, would be supportive of growth…While higher capex outlays and focus on infrastructure are expected to drive growth and competitiveness of domestic manufacturing, focus on agri-related schemes is likely to boost farmers' welfare and rural consumption demand, spurring a virtuousconsumption-investment-employment cycle," said ITC its latest annual report.

It noted that India's macroeconomic variables are expected to remain stable in FY26, with GDP growth staying around 6.5%. ITC raised concerns over food inflation, which witnessed a 'sharp uptick' and impacted the consumption growth in the FMCG sector, which is the second largest business of ITC after cigarettes.

"The impact of inflationary pressure on household savings weighed on consumption expenditure, mainly in urban markets; however, demand in rural markets was relatively resilient. The weakness in consumption was reflected, inter alia, in muted volume growth of FMCG sector," it said. Food inflation was 7.3% in FY25, while headline inflation (CPI) remained within RBI's target range at 4.6%.

Eelectric vehicle market to grow 40% YoY in 2025

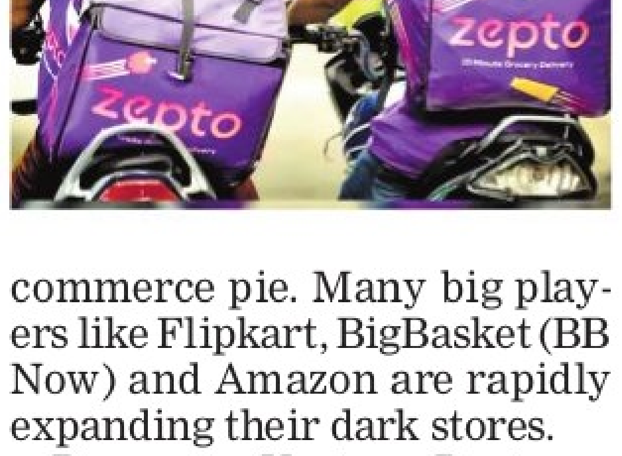
ENS ECONOMIC BUREAU @ Chennai

INDIA'S electric vehicle (EV) market is projected to grow 40% YoY in 2025, reaching 138,000 unit sales, with battery electric vehicles accounting for majority of the volume, finds a study.

As per a new study by Frost & Sullivan, 'Transformative Trends in the Indian Electric Vehicle Market - 2025 & Beyond', this momentum aligns with global trends, with the international passenger EV market likely to hit 20 million units in 2025, crossing 20% penetration of light-duty vehicle sales. In India, the surge is being led by SUVs and subcompact SUVs, with Tata Motors, M&M, and MG Motor positioned to dominate via differentiated business strategies, said Prajyot N Sathe, research director, Frost & Sullivan.

With many new entrants, quick commerce mkt to grow 67% by FY30

UMA KANNAN @ Bengaluru



WITH many new entrants aggressively expanding dark stores and categories, quick commerce segment is heating up in the country and the market size is projected to hit $30 billion in FY30 from $0.3 billion in FY22.

VC firm Bessemer Venture Partners in its latest report points out that the quick commerce market size will see 67% growth in FY30. Currently, the market size is $5 billion. Apart from Instamart, Blinkit and Zepto, many new players such as Blip (30 minutes fashion delivery), Urban Company, Pronto (home services) and medicine delivery platforms such as DocPharma have entered to grab a larger slice of the quick commerce pie. Many big players like Flipkart, BigBasket (BB Now) and Amazon are rapidly expanding their dark stores.

Bessemer Venture Partners says there are growing opportunities in quick commerce across categories such as food (Swish, Zing, Zepto Cafe, SNACC); Apparel (Blip), beauty & personal care (Routines), home services (Snabbit, UC, Pronto) and Medicine (Farmako, Medino's). The report quoted Hari Menon, CEO, BigBasket saying that this shift (quick commerce) isn't just about speed. It's about reimagining convenience for a generation that values time as much as quality.

Kearney India in its latest report forecasts that the country's quick commerce grocery market will triple between 2024 and 2027, reaching ₹1.5–1.7 lakh crore, with growth extending to cities with populations morethan 5 lakh. The report further said quick commerce employs 62-64 people per ₹1 crore of monthly gross merchandise value (GMV), which is nearly as much as general trade (63 to 66 people) and much higher than modern trade (41 to 42 people) and e-commerce (25 to 29 people).

Suryavanshi & Mhatre power India U-19

Fresh from their exploits in the IPL, young guns Vaibhav Suryavanshi and Ayush Mhatre blazed with the bat as India defeated England by six wickets in the first Youth ODI of their Under-19 tour in Hove (England) on Friday. Brief scores: Eng U-19 174 in 42.2 ovs (Flintoff 56; Kanishk 3/20) lost to India U-19 178/4 in 24 ovs (Suryavanshi 48, Kundu 45 n.o, Mhatre 21).

BIG TWEAKS

Minimum 7-day stand-down for concussed players

The ICC on Friday announced new playing conditions across formats including a minimum seven-day stand-down period for players diagnosed with concussion. A look...

STARTING DATE

● The new playing conditions commenced with the first match of the new World Test Championship on June 17, played between Sri Lanka and Bangladesh ● For ODIs and T20Is, it will commence during the same Sri Lanka against Bangladesh series

PROMINENT CHANGES

Stop clock: ● After white-ball cricket, Tests will also see a stop clock, with the bowling team needing to be ready to bowl the first ball of their next over within 60 seconds of the previous over being completed. ● Failure to do so for the third time in an innings (following two warnings) will result in a five-run penalty imposed against the fielding team on each occasion. ● Two warning sanctions will be reset to zero after 80 overs have passed, and again after any future blocks of 80 overs in that innings

Number of balls per ODI innings: ● Two new balls will be used for the first 34 overs of an ODI innings, after which the fielding team will choose one of the balls for the remaining overs

Boundary catches: ● Changed rules now require a fielder who makes airborne contact with the ball beyond the boundary to then land and remain inside the boundary ● This applies even if another player completes the fielding. This change will be implemented in international cricket before it is included in the MCC Laws of Cricket next year

Deliberate short runs: ● Adding to the present five-run penalty for a deliberate short run, the fielding team will also choose which of the two batters takes strike for the next delivery

Concussion protocols: ● Teams will now be required to nominate their designated concussion replacements for the match. This curbs the advantage previously held by home teams, who have typically been able to choose from a larger pool of potential replacements. ● A player diagnosed with a concussion during a match must observe a minimum stand-down period of a minimum of seven days before returning to play

Changes to be trialled by full members

STARTING DATE

From October 2025 and for an initial six-month period

Wide Ball Trial (ODI & T20I): ● In an effort to provide leniency for a bowler who sees the batter moving around prior or during a delivery, a new wide ball rule will be trialled. ● As part of the changes, the position of the batter's legs at the point of delivery will now be used as the reference point for a wide, even if the batter subsequently moves across to the off side

Edgbaston Test for India

History against Gill & Co as they look to bounce back after loss

FIROZ MIRZA @Chennai

UNCONQUERED TERRITORIES FOR INDIA

India's record at Edgbaston		India's record at Old Trafford
8	Matches	9
0	Won	0
7	Lost	4
1	Draw	5

THE five-match Test series in England was never going to be easy and Shubman Gill and Co knew it even before they boarded the flight for Old Blighty. After the first four days of the opening Test in Leeds, India were in good position, to say the least. On the last day, though, the complexion of the game changed with the hosts chasing down the target of 371. To many, it was an opportunity lost for the young Indian side and rightly so as two of the next three venues — Edgbaston in Birmingham and Old Trafford in Manchester — have never been conquered by them since 1967 and 1936 respectively.

The Birmingham match, which begins on July 2, could well decide the fate of the series as well. It will also present the sternest test for India, who have lost seven out of eight Tests played here in the last 58 years. The only draw came in 1986 when India won the three-match series 2-0.

England have, however, lost two matches out of four played here since 2021 but more importantly one of their two wins at the venue came against India when they famously chased down a stiff target of 378 with seven wickets to spare. The result forced the Indian team to share the honours with the hosts as the series ended in a 2-2 draw. Since 2010, England have lost only three matches at the venue, losing to Australia twice and New Zealand once.

Manchester, the venue of the fourth Test, could offer some solace to the visitors as they have managed to draw five out of nine matches played at the venue so far. However, India have played only once here since 1990 and they lost that outing by an innings and 54 runs in 2014.

What could make things tricky for them is England's Bazball brand of cricket. It was visible in Headingley as after the first few couple of hours, the surface hardly offered any kind of assistance to the bowlers. What didn't help their cause was the twin collapses they suffered. If similar tracks are at the offer in Birmingham and Manchester, it could possibly create more problems for India unless they run their opponents out of the match with middle-order and lower middle-order batters coming good.

Given their past records, India have to tread carefully. Rewriting history is what they need to keep themselves in contention. They may be able to do that at The Lord's, the venue where they have won two and lost two apart from drawing one since 2007. In 2021, they won the contest deep on Day Five thanks to a stirring bowling effort.

THE 24-YEAR-OLD HAS MADE THE MOST OF THE INJURY LAYOFF AND IS KEEN TO CONTRIBUTE IN ALL THREE DEPARTMENTS FOR INDIA

AMANJOT 2.0: ALL-ROUND APTITUDE

GOMESH S @Chennai

WHEN Amanjot Kaur walked onto the field at the SSN College Ground, Chennai on January 7 for Team E during the senior women's one-day challenger Trophy clash against Team A after an eight-month injury layoff, she did not feel nervous. Instead, Kaur was grateful to return to pitch. It was when a back stress fracture and a ligament tear in her hand put her out of action in April 2024, Kaur realised how much the sport meant to her.

Like most players, recovery was not easy. With so much time to kill, the mind may play havoc. Kaur had to adapt and started doing chores like making salad, painting and watching movies to keep herself busy and occupied during rehabilitation. And when she finally made a comeback, the Punjab all-rounder unleashed herself like never before. Even though her team did not make the final, she impressed with her bowling in the senior challengers and went on to play a crucial part in Mumbai Indians winning their second Women's Premier League title. An India comeback followed in Sri Lanka where she took back-to-back three-fers in the ODI tri-series. Now, the all-rounder is in England, hoping to make a mark in the five T20Is and three ODIs that begin on Saturday.

"I'm very excited but I have to control my emotions," Kaur told this daily ahead of the England tour in May. "I have to bowl according to the conditions and the team's requirements. It's not like if the conditions are good, I have to overdo with my swing. I want to continue from where I left in Sri Lanka and not leave it behind. No point in doing it in bits and pieces. I am very excited."

While it has been a memorable six months for Kaur, the road to getting to that point in Chennai began mid 2024. When the 24-year-old injured her hand during the Bangladesh tour in April 2024, it did not feel as bad. Even the MRIs and scans showed a grade two tear, but the pain was immense. It was only when she did an ultrasound, Kaur realised that her ligament got folded at the joint because of which she could not extend her hand. Coupled with the back pain she felt during training, Kaur reported to the Centre of Excellence (CoE) in Bengaluru. She was not able to move properly. "For a couple of months, I had to be on bed rest. I did not know what to do with all the time I had. I was cranky. The initial period was tough. My family doesn't understand cricket. The injury was a big setback for them. We are in the circuit, so we know that the injury is part and parcel of the game. But my family did not get it. They think that there are six or eight months and there are so many other young players and someone will come in," the 24-year-old explained.

This is what Kaur's father Bhupinder Singh felt: "It was difficult when she couldn't play for eight-nine months. When you have nothing to do, sometimes you get low or depressed, not knowing whether you will get a chance in the future. But she had a lot of faith and courage."

Knowing how the family felt, Kaur spent most of the time at the CoE whenever possible. Once she realised the only way to get better is to go through the process, Kaur made personal goals in terms of her fitness as well as other things. "What I can do to get better, how to get fit, how to make a difference and what I need to do to get there... I wrote it all down. I told my trainers what I need. My trainer Tanuja Lele and I decided that we would workout twice a day. If I did a workout in the NCA then we took a break for 8-9 hours. Even if we had to go to the gym at 1 in the night, because the hotel gym is accessible 24x7, we did workouts at 1 at night. We utilised it very well. We planned a very good diet and got very good results. Nagesh (Gupta, her coach) sir will be on call with me. My trainer was checking on me all the time."

All the hard work she had put in during rehab meant Kaur was more than ready when she was back. It showed during the WPL pre-season camp which pushed Mumbai Indians team management to use Kaur more with the ball unlike the first two seasons. She bowled 17 overs and took five wickets — contrary to the cumulative five overs in the last two seasons — and added some crucial 128 runs in the lower-order. Kaur desperately wanted be a genuine all-rounder and contribute in all three departments. When the India comeback followed in Sri Lanka, she was trusted with the new-ball duties and Kaur delivered, taking three wickets in both the games she played. "I have never bowled a new ball for India. It was new for me. But I'm very confident about bowling. I have the skill and the pace. I know how to create an opportunity or how to get breakthroughs. I knew how to bring the run-rate down, and how to slow down the game. I had a slower ball. I had a wobble seam. My plans were always ready. We got a little swing and on top of that you get a little nip from the wickets. The ball used to drift inside. The old ball was also very safe. It was very helpful if you hit it on the wicket," the MI star explained.

Even as an important challenge awaits her in England, Kaur is not satisfied. She believes her best is yet to come and he wants to be that "pure all-rounder" who could make the team both as a batter and bowler.

Women face big challenge

With the five T20Is and three ODIs against England starting today, a look...

Eyes on Shafali's return

After being dropped from the setup post the T20 World Cup last year, Shafali Verma has made a comeback and will be keen to make a statement. How she does in the T20Is will also be crucial for her chances of making an ODI comeback before the home World Cup

Sophie challenge

Like Shafali, Sophie Ecclestone too has made a comeback of sorts and the left-arm spinner will be crucial for England to beat India. While managing a quad injury, she had taken time away from sport to focus on her well-being. Back in the side, the all-rounder will be raring to go against India

New-ball attack

In the absence of Renuka Singh, Arundhati Reddy and Amanjot Kaur are expected to share the new-ball duties for India. There is also a youngster in Kranti Goud, but Reddy and Kaur will be the senior players who are expected to do the job up front and provide breakthroughs

Alcaraz to begin Big W run vs Fognini

AGENCIES @London

CARLOS Alcaraz will start his Wimbledon defence against Fabio Fognini while World No 1 Jannik Sinner faces a potential semifinal clash against Novak Djokovic following Friday's draw. On the women's side, reigning champion Barbora Krejcikova will begin her campaign against rising star Alexandra Eala on Centre Court if she can recover from injury.

Spain's Alcaraz, who has beaten Djokovic in the past two finals at the All England Club, returns to Wimbledon, which starts on Monday, on a career-best 18-match winning streak.

He is aiming to become just the fifth man to win at least three straight Wimbledon titles in the Open Era after Bjorn Borg, Pete Sampras, Roger Federer and Djokovic.

The Spaniard, 22, has a 2-0 head-to-head record against Italian Fognini, who is 38.

Sinner's pursuit of a maiden Wimbledon crown could hinge on a heavyweight semifinal clash with seven-time champion Djokovic. The Italian opens against compatriot Luca Nardi at the grass-court Major.

Djokovic, competing at his lowest seeding (sixth) since 2018, will begin his campaign for a record-tying eighth Wimbledon men's title against Frenchman Alexandre Muller.

The Serb, who has been in every final since 2018, is seeded for a quarter-final meeting with British fourth seed Jack Draper, who meets Argentina's Sebastian Baez in the first round.

QUESTIONABLE DISMISSALS

CONTENTIOUS DECISIONS FROM THE THIRD UMPIRE ON THE SECOND DAY LEFT THE WEST INDIES FEELING AGGRIEVED. A LOOK...

● Windies captain Roston Chase (R) was ruled leg-before to Oz counterpart Pat Cummins (L) for 44 just after lunch by television official Adrian Holdstock even though the available TV replays suggested the tall right-hander had edged the ball onto his pads.

● Holdstock was again the focus of attention when Shai Hope, on 48, appeared to have been cleanly caught down the leg-side by a diving wicketkeeper Alex Carey to give all-rounder Beau Webster his second wicket. Hope seemed equally convinced as he was almost in the players' pavilion as repeated replays of the dismissal gave a strong indication that the ball had touched the ground as Carey attempted to complete the catch. Holdstock nevertheless upheld the dismissal.

> We can only ask the questions. That's what we have the technology for. The questions have to be asked in that direction, not at the players. — Mitchell Starc, Australia pacer

Day 3 Lunch: Australia build commanding lead

BRIDGETOWN: Australia moved into a 171-run lead at lunch on the third day of the first Test at the Kensington Oval on Friday as dropped catches continued to plague the West Indies. The tourists held a commanding lead as they progressed to 181-5 in their second innings. Travis Head and Beau Webster batted through most of the morning in a fifth-wicket stand of 102.

Twinkle lands in dope net; focus on AFI

INDRANEEL DAS @Chennai

Twinkle Chaudhary | AFP

IT is starting to be bit more frequent. Weeks after Sneha K was omitted from the Asian Athletics Championships team, middle-distance runner Twinkle Chaudhary tested positive. According to the World Athletics anti-doping watchdog Athletics Integrity Unit (AIU), Twinkle tested positive for anabolic and androgenic steroid (AAS) Methyltestosterone. She was part of the team that travelled to Gumi in May and is understood to have been tested there. This is another case of high-profile athletes, a national and international medallist testing positive after javelin thrower Shivpal Singh and quarter-miler Sneha this year.

Twinkle has been provisionally suspended. Interestingly, she competed in Taiwan and won silver and at the Asian meet she finished fourth. The event in Taiwan came after the meet in Gumi. At April's senior national federation athletics competition in Kochi, Twinkle represented Reliance and won the 800m with a timing of 2:00.71 (new meet record). It needs to be seen if the National Anti-Doping Agency (NADA) had tested her. She has been provisionally suspended under World Anti-Doping Agency's anti-doping rule. She faces a maximum of four year ban for first offence.

Interestingly, the substance is the same substance that up and coming javelin thrower DP Manu tested positive for. Not just Shivpal and Sneha, even long distance runner Kartik Kumar, silver medal winner at the 2023 Asian Games, tested positive during a test conducted by the United State Anti-Doping Agency (USADA). The NADA has been collecting samples from top athletes not just in India but abroad as well.

This has once against brought the focus back on Athletics Federation of India's (AFI) decentralisation policy and the difficulty of monitoring. This had been an issue that the AFI was expected to face when they announced this policy. Though the AFI felt that because of their monitoring, doping issue has been tackled, but this case would put a question mark.

Adille Sumariwalla, the AFI spokesperson said on Friday: "AFI has no needle policy and zero tolerance to doping. But accountability of the officials/coaches at the district/state level whose athletes test positive for performance enhancing drugs should be fixed. Strict punishment will act as a deterrent."

Man City's Erling Haaland (R) celebrates after scoring against Juventus | AP

PEP Guardiola's Manchester City demonstrated their Club World Cup credentials with a 5-2 victory over Juventus on Thursday while Vinicius Junior starred as Real Madrid beat Salzburg 3-0 to secure a spot in the last 16.

Al Hilal of Saudi Arabia beat Pachuca of Mexico 2-0 to pip Salzburg to the last berth in the knockout phase, as Al Ain battled to a 2-1 win over Wydad Casablanca in the day's other game.

City became the only side at the tournament to win all three of their group matches as they put Juventus to the sword in front of 54,320 at the Camping World Stadium in Orlando.

City now face Al Hilal, the only Asian representative in the next round after goals from Salem Al-Dawsari and Brazilian Marcos Leonardo against Pachuca.

Meanwhile, Vinicius scored one goal and made another with a touch of class as Madrid saw off Salzburg in Philadelphia to clinch top spot in Group H. Real play Juventus in the last 16 in Miami on Tuesday.

Results: Juventus 2-5 Man City; Wydad AC 1-2 Al Ain; RB Salzburg 0-3 Real Madrid; Al-Hilal 2-0 Pachuca.

Most of the important issues were left unresolved and pushed to COP30. These include major topics like public climate finance, Global Goal on Adaptation, just transition, and technology implementation. Brazil, the next COP host, wants COP30 to be smooth and focused on getting results. But with trust so low, and many key issues delayed, it will take strong leadership to bring countries together. The talks at Bonn showed that countries are still very far apart on what climate action means and who should do what

CLIMATE MELTDOWN

AT BONN, NOW ALL EYES ON COP30

S V KRISHNA CHAITANYA
@Chennai

THE 62nd session of the Subsidiary Bodies (SB62) of the United Nations Framework Convention on Climate Change (UNFCCC) concluded in Bonn on Friday early hours with a palpable sense of frustration. The two-week talks, intended as a critical midway point ahead of COP30 in Belem, Brazil, in November, ended without substantial progress on key issues, particularly climate finance, leaving developing nations, including India, incensed over the failure to address their urgent needs.

The Bonn conference unfolded against a backdrop of escalating climate impacts, with 2024 witnessing 151 record-breaking extreme weather events and over 800,000 people displaced or made homeless due to climate-related disasters. Yet, the talks failed to bridge the yawning finance gap, a recurring thorn in the side of international climate negotiations. UN Climate Change Executive Secretary Simon Stiell captured the mood in his closing plenary address, urging parties to “go further, faster, and fairer” to keep the 1.5°C Paris Agreement goal alive. However, his words rang hollow as delegates departed with little to show for their efforts, particularly on the contentious issue of Article 9.1 of the Paris Agreement, which mandates developed nations to provide financial resources to assist developing countries for mitigation and adaptation.

Finance standoff

The finance debate dominated the Bonn agenda, with a flashpoint emerging early when developed countries attempted to remove references to Article 9.1 from the agenda, triggering a 30-hour procedural standoff. For developing nations, this move signaled a retreat from long-standing commitments, intensifying a trust deficit that has plagued negotiations for decades. India along with Like-Minded Developing Countries (LMDC), G77+China, and Least Developed Countries (LDCs), fiercely resisted this dilution, emphasising that climate justice hinges on equitable financial support.

Rajashree Ray, Economic Advisor at Union Ministry of Environment, Forest and Climate Change (MoEFCC), articulated the nation’s stance during the closing plenary: “Lack of any progress on Article 9.1 is one of the foremost challenges related to climate finance. This is a global priority. This is a priority for the Global South. This is not possible without international cooperation and the developed countries meeting their obligations and ensuring the urgent implementation of Article 9.1.” India also raised concerns about unilateral trade measures, such as carbon border adjustments, which it argued contravene the principles of equity and common but differentiated responsibilities and respective capabilities (CBDR-RC) under the UNFCCC.

The finance gap highlighted in the recent “Just Transition Report: Private Fantasies, Public Realities” by Oil Change International, released last week, backs India’s position. The report estimates a need for $5.7 trillion annually by 2030 for a just energy transition, yet only 38 per cent ($2.166 trillion) was tracked in 2023-2024. Critically, the Global South, home to 69 pc of the world’s population, received a mere 15 pc of this finance, amounting to approximately $325 billion annually. This stark disparity, coupled with the report’s finding that blended finance mobilised just 29 pc private investment globally (24 pc in low-income countries) against promised $4-7 per dollar of concessional public finance, validates India’s demand for predictable, grant-based funding. The projected $540 billion annual shortfall in the Global South by 2030, as per the International Energy Agency’s 1.5°C-aligned model, further amplifies the urgency.

Procedural inertia

The Bonn talks descended into what many described as a climate meltdown, with procedural wrangling overshadowing substantive action. The attempt to sideline Article 9.1 was not an isolated incident; negotiations on the Global Goal on Adaptation (GGA) and response measures also floundered. Developing countries, including the African and Arab Groups, pushed for alignment with the Paris Agreement and deletion of duplicative language, but clashed with developed nations over indicator guidance and means of implementation (MoI). The failure to agree on GGA indicators, critical for vulnerable nations, risks setting back the process by a year, a setback Cristina Rumbaitis of the UN Foundation called “deeply disappointing.”

Mohamed Adow, Director of Power Shift Africa, echoed this sentiment, stating, “The slow pace on core issues like finance, adaptation, and just transition reveals a deepening trust gap between rich and vulnerable nations.” The COP29 outcome in Baku, where developed countries pledged only $300 billion annually by 2035 against the $1.3 trillion (including $600 billion in grants) sought by the Global South, loomed large over Bonn. Diego Pacheco, Bolivia’s climate negotiator and LMDC spokesperson, lamented “many, many unfulfilled promises,” accusing developed nations of obfuscating real issues and offering inadequate mobilisation targets.

The just transition dialogue saw some progress, with the UAE Just Transition Work Programme gaining traction, particularly on creating an enabling international environment. Khaled Hashim of G77+China noted satisfaction with advancements. However, the unresolved finance gap from COP29 cast a long shadow, reinforcing the report’s critique that private-sector-first approaches are failing to deliver the $420 billion annually needed for fair fossil fuel phase-out programmes, including worker support and economic diversification.

Ilana Seid, Chair of the Alliance of Small Island States (AOSIS), highlighted the inclusive yet inadequate outcome: “The pace of action remains far behind the accelerating impacts our nations are already enduring. Small island developing states should not be the collateral damage of other countries’ lack of climate action.” AOSIS called for enhanced, 1.5°C-aligned Nationally Determined Contributions (NDCs) and operationalising the GGA with scaled-up, accessible finance, expressing concern over logistical uncertainties for COP30.

Lien Vandamme, Senior Campaigner at the Center for International Environmental Law (CIEL), said, for 30 years, the negotiations have failed to deliver climate justice, undermined international law, and allowed the fossil fuel industry to shape the rules. Urgent and deep reform of the UN climate talks is critical.” This aligns with the growing sentiment that corporate influence and lack of accountability are derailing progress.

David Waskow, Director of the International Climate Initiative at the World Resources Institute (WRI), said with just few months to go before COP30, leaders need to start delivering: they need to put forward strong national plans to cut emissions and transform key sectors; scale up climate finance from all sources; and urgently implement and mainstream adaptation and resilience to protect lives, economies, and security. Persistent political tensions and competing agendas led to limited and uneven progress in Bonn.”

CONQUEERING DREAMS

As pride month comes to an end and the burst of events celebrating the LGBTQIA+ community wraps up, CE brings you five homegrown small businesses owned and operated by members of the community. From trendy handmade jewellery to deliciously scented candles and yummy podis and pickles, you can indulge in these businesses' offerings year-round.

HERE ARE FIVE BENGALURU QUEER-OWNED SMALL BUSINESSES TO CHECK OUT THIS PRIDE MONTH | MAHIMA NAGARAJU

Details: @podinanmaga on Instagram

PODI NAN MAGA

With a cheeky name that makes Kannada-speakers immediately do a double take, this business by Abhiram Sridhar sells a variety of traditional podis or pudis "They're all my grandmother's recipes. I'm also a one-man army, making everything in my home kitchen. There are five varieties of podis and some are unique, like horse gram, moringa, flax seed, peanut and garlic podis" explains Sridhar. He also has a range of pickles on offer – recipes collected from his travels and his own creations. "I make traditional pickles like mango and tomato thokku but also some inspired by my travels like raw turmeric pickle (a proper Rajasthani style pickle), and dates pickle inspired by my trip to Kerala. My best-seller, though, is my own recipe – hot garlic pickle which goes well in ramen noodles, Thai curry and more."

QUIRE STUDIO

If you want to spruce up your home with curated and handcrafted decor items, then this business has artisanal soy wax candles in delicious scents and unique shapes ranging from cacti and puppies to laddoos along with delicate jewellery plated in gold. "I've always been drawn to creating things with my hands. During the pandemic, I started experimenting with candle-making to manage stress and bring a sense of calm into my space," explains founder Jesmin Ahmed. She adds, "All of our pieces are gender-neutral and handcrafted with a focus on sustainability. Our most loved products are our iced coffee candle and our delicate, minimal jewellery.

SASSAGE STICKERS

Details: @sassage.stickers on Instagram

For many millennials and Gen Zs, stickers are a statement of individuality you make by decorating your books, laptops, and workstations, and this business embraces that with unique illustrated stickers. "I was actively working in the field of mental health and helping design products for the startups I interned with. That experience, combined with my growing love for design, inspired me to start building my brand," says Laksha, the founder, adding, "We primarily sell stickers centred around themes of mental health, self-care, queer pride, and nostalgia that reflects what I love and connect with personally." They also offer other products like lapel pins, earrings, notebooks, and more, designed in-house.

KII.INK STUDIO

With prices starting from ₹4,000, Kii Seran's tattoo studio in Indiranagar, in her words, is a 'safe space for queer bodies', where she creates intricate custom tattoos inspired by influences from growing up in the middle east combined with elements from Indian culture. "People use tattoos for landmark moments sometimes and it really creates a change in their life. They come back here because the process and environment of the studio are so light – there's no judgment. That's the vibe I aim to create with every session."

MIMI STUDIO

Details: @themimib0x on Instagram

Started by queer college students Manas and Ashi, this business has trendy handmade jewellery pieces including earrings, anklets, bracelets, and waist chains, made from semi-precious stones and glass beads. It all started with the duo not being able to find the exact type of chandelier earrings they wanted for a college event, "Manas wanted a particular chandelier necklace like the ones we see on Pinterest but nothing we found came close so we thought – why not make it ourselves? We just fell in love with the process and result," says Ashi. "For Pride Month, we've launched phone charms with Pride Flag colours – there's a lesbian flag, gay flag, asexual flag, non-binary flag, and more," adds Manas.

'GOOD DOES NOT MEAN SUCCESSFUL'

National award-winning singer and popular composer Padma Shri Shankar Mahadevan gets candid about the growth of his academy and the evolution of music education in India, ahead of his performance on Friday

ANJALI RAM

FOR over three decades, Shankar Mahadevan has been a name synonymous with versatility – transcending borders and generations in the music world. As a celebrated playback singer and music composer, he has left an indelible mark in the industry for years with songs like Maa Tujhe Salaam, Breathless, and Mitwa and grabbing awards like the National Film Award for Best Male Playback Singer for Enna Solla Pogirai and Padma Shri. Among the milestones in his journey is the founding of the Shankar Mahadevan Academy 15 years ago which he co-established with Sridhar Ranganathan with the intention to democratise music education. He performed with members of the academy at Sangam and Prayag, a music festival on Friday.

Recently, the academy unveiled two new courses, aimed to cater to diverse musical interests and ages. "The whole idea of forming this academy was to leave a legacy behind. We wanted to create this, not only for the generations to come, but also for generations before us," said Mahadevan. For him, music serves a higher purpose. "Music is not just about entertaining, or about teaching and learning. It has a purpose beyond age, country, and religion."

One of the shifts in music teaching in recent years has been the adoption of the online mode, Mahadevan commented, "People did not have faith in it. Many questioned us asking if it's possible. Now, there are hundreds of kids who have learnt online from various parts of India, and they are all singing in unison," adding, "We have teachers who learn Japanese or even Spanish [to teach foreign students]. They might be sitting in Ahmedabad and teaching students in Kumbakonam. The students performed for me and the dedication, the fire, the focus that those kids had – now there is no looking back. We introduced these classes in three villages, now we want to make it 3,000."

Despite challenges along the way, the journey has shaped him in key ways. "The biggest takeaway is when we get into music, it has a bigger purpose. You can change people's lives. You can bring a simple thing called joy to anybody." Mahadevan also got candid about what it takes to achieve long term success in the music industry, saying, "Musicians who have not educated themselves in music will always be, to a certain extent, shooting in the dark. That's got nothing to do with success. Success is something that you can get irrespective. Good does not mean successful. But, if you are both, you can stay for a long time. Education makes you a solid musician who has got a foundation," he stressed.

Finally, he leaves with a message to young musicians: stay rooted. "When you are born in a country, you are a part of it. This is your birthplace. So at least know what the music of your country is. Don't make your own music uncool, respect it."

TECHNOLOGY, WARFARE, AND THE NEW WORLD ORDER

EXPERTS DISCUSS EMERGING FRONTIERS AT CHRIST UNIVERSITY CONFERENCE

The Centre for East Asian Studies (CEAS), CHRIST (Deemed to be University), in collaboration with The Peninsula Foundation (TPF), organised the National Conference on 'Technology and Military Power in the Contested World' yesterday at its Central Campus. Top military leaders, strategists, policymakers, and academics converged at the event, which explored three themes: 'Technology and the Changing Nature of War,' 'Regional Conflicts, Nuclear Thresholds, and the New World Order,' and 'Technology, Civil-Military Fusion, and the Future of Power.'

Professor N Manoharan, Director of CEAS, delivered the inaugural address, setting the stage by highlighting the "dilemma" of technology's dual capacity for human progress and destructive weaponisation. Air Marshal M. Matheswaran, President of The Peninsula Foundation, focused on the crucial intersection of technology and military might within the landscape of intense global competition.

The keynote address was delivered by Air Marshal Tejinder Singh, AVSM, VM, Air Officer Commanding-in-Chief (AOC-in-C) of the Training Command, IAF. He provided a comprehensive analysis of the evolving nature of modern warfare. He began by examining the contemporary battlespace across the full spectrum of conflict, emphasising the pivotal role of non-traditional domains like space and cyber-space. This evolution, he argued, has led to the paradigm of Multi-Domain Operations (MDO), where achieving information supremacy and decision dominance is crucial for success.

The Air Marshal analysed the application of aerospace power within MDO and detailed how the Indian Air Force (IAF) is rapidly adapting by inducting niche and disruptive technologies. He concluded by highlighting the IAF's ongoing technological transformation, underscored by key Atmanirbharta initiatives. These efforts, he noted, are crucial for enabling the IAF to conduct effective multi-domain operations and play a pivotal role in any future conflict.

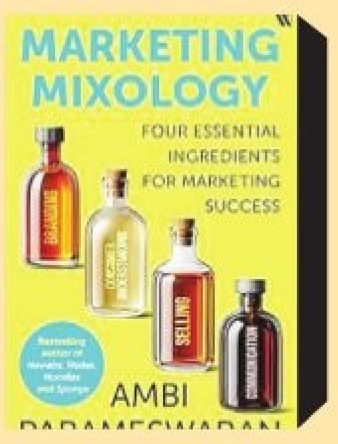
Subsequent discussions throughout the day provided a deeper analysis of these dynamics, examining the impact on regional conflicts and nuclear thresholds, and looking ahead to the future of national power shaped by civil-military fusion and technological sovereignty.

BOOK NOOK

The Last Bench

By Adhir Biswas

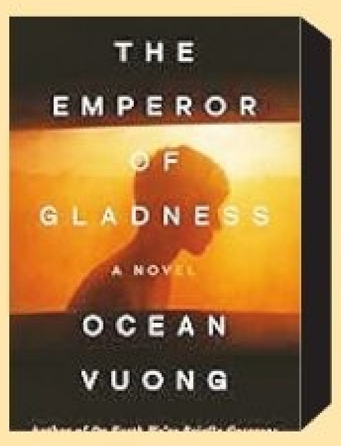
The book is a poignant memoir that delves into the author's childhood experiences as a Dalit refugee in West Bengal. The narrative unfolds through the eyes of a boy, who faces societal discrimination and exclusion, symbolised by his relegation to the last bench in school. Despite these challenges, he navigates the complexities of identity, belonging, and resilience.



Marketing Mixology

By Ambi Parameswaran

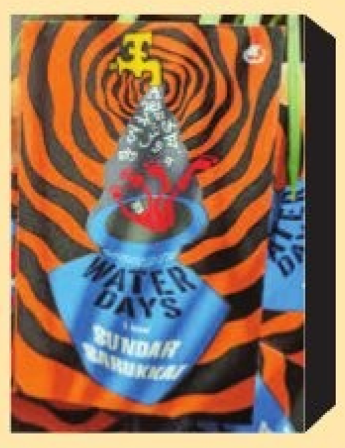
Drawing from over three decades of experience in advertising and brand building, Parameswaran offers insights into how these components interact to create impactful marketing campaigns. The book identifies four key ingredients – branding, consumer understanding, selling, and communication.



The Emperor of Gladness

By Ocean Vuong

The journey of 19-year-old Hai, a Vietnamese-American grappling with addiction and suicidal thoughts, takes a turn when he becomes the caregiver for an 82-year-old Lithuanian widow with dementia. The book explores generational trauma, identity, and survival.



Water Days

By Sundar Sarukkai

It's a novel that delves into the complexities of identity, memory, and belonging. Through a tapestry of stories, Sarukkai explores themes of migration, displacement, and the search for meaning in a rapidly changing world.

FITBIT

EYE EXERCISE SIDEWAYS

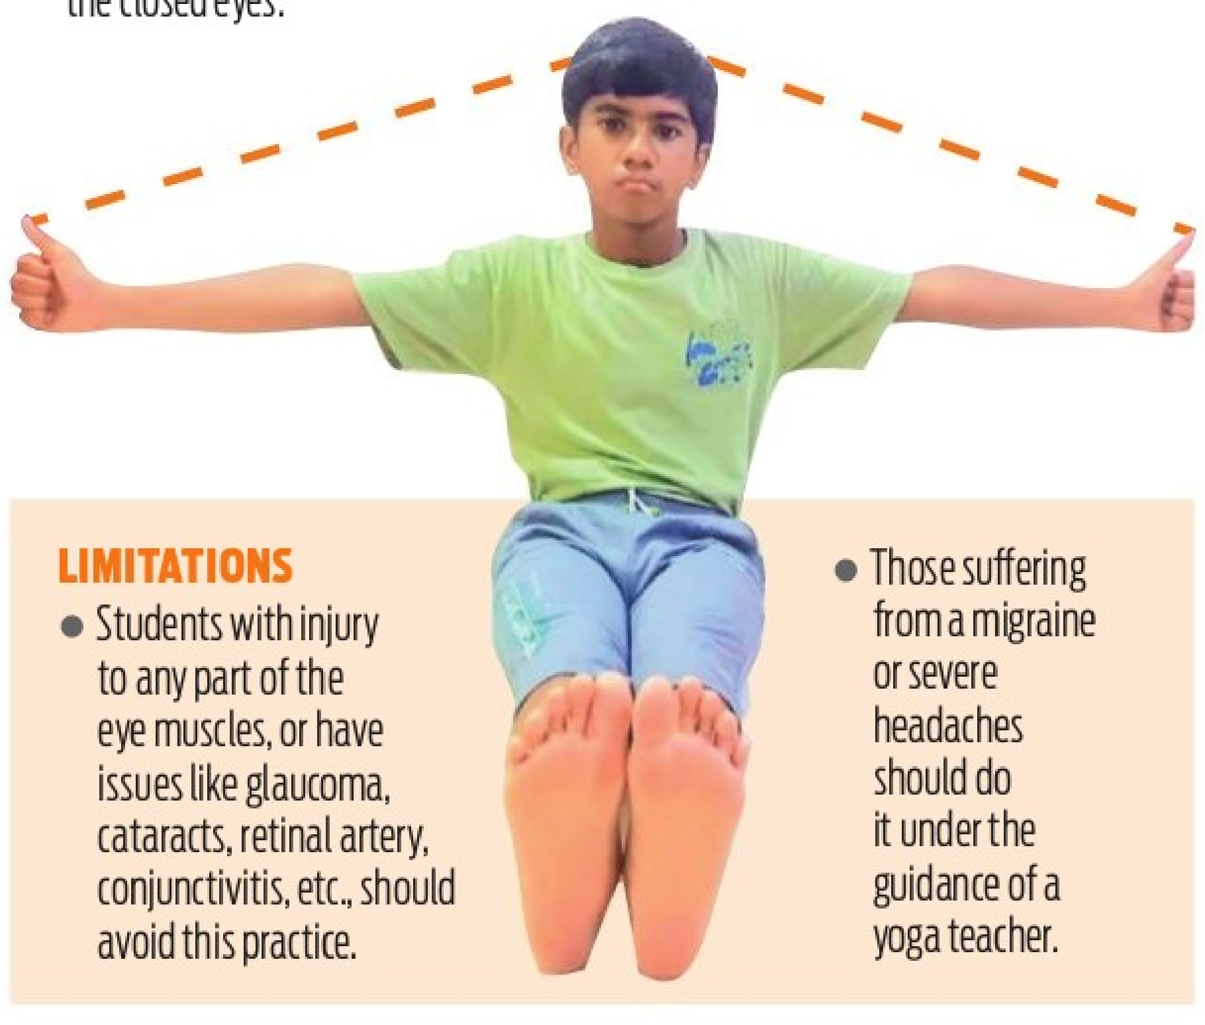
Eye exercises engage all the eye (ocular) muscles that support the eye movement. In today's world, eye fatigue is a common complaint that is influenced by modern sedentary lifestyle – spending long hours on computers or television, use of fluorescent lights, air conditioning, lack of exercise, environmental toxins, and poor dietary habits. Practising eye exercises for a couple of minutes every day, along with good dietary habits can strengthen eye muscles, improve vision, prevent degeneration, and protect from stress.

STEPS

- Start seated in Dandasana (Staff Pose) keeping the back straight, legs stretched out in the front, head and neck straight.
- Now, inhale and raise the arms sideways at shoulder level, keeping them straight, and make a loose fist with the thumb pointing upwards.
- Make sure the thumbs are in the peripheral vision when the head is facing forward. If they are not visible, bring the arms slightly forward till the thumbs are visible.
- You can look at a fixed point directly in front of the eyes, horizon level.
- Fix the position of the head in this neutral position and without moving the head sideways, first focus the eyes on the left thumb, following the gaze to the eyebrow centre.
- Then focus the gaze to the right thumb, and follow the gaze towards the eyebrow centre.
- Repeat this movement between the left and right eye as you gaze at the extended hand and thumb for about 5-6 times. While doing this, keep the head and spine stationed, without moving them.
- To release, bring the hands down, and close your eyes placing the palms of the hands on the eyes, which will help in keeping the eyes relaxed.
- You could choose to repeat, and then relax. After that, rub the palms together to warm them and place the palms over the closed eyes.

BENEFITS

- Helps keep the muscles of the eyes active and stimulated.
- It can also be practised as part of a warm-up before the practice of any Gentle Yoga Sequence or Senior Yoga Sequence, keeping the muscles moist and active.
- Helps strengthen and relax all the muscles of the eye. Also helps in keeping them fresh, reducing fatigue.
- Ensures the use of all the eye muscles, avoiding the overuse of certain muscles with our day-to-day activities.
- Those who have dark circles can benefit from this practice.
- When the muscles of the eyes are exercised consciously, it actively improves vision and focus, even in old age.
- Keeps sinusitis under control, when done along with Sarvangasana, the benefits derived are more.
- When it is done on a regular basis along with other exercises for the eyes, helps in reducing stress in the eyes.
- Helps in better balance with certain yoga poses that require focus, awareness, vision and strength of the eye muscles together to keep the body in balance.



LIMITATIONS

- Students with injury to any part of the eye muscles, or have issues like glaucoma, cataracts, retinal artery, conjunctivitis, etc., should avoid this practice.
- Those suffering from a migraine or severe headaches should do it under the guidance of a yoga teacher.

IF YOU KNOW YOU KNOW

I have spent my week taking care of myself. That, in itself, is quite an oddity because I belong to a generation of people who were taught that self-love was a form of narcissism. Hence, I had to re-train my brain to think otherwise. I spent my days taking relaxing massages, doing head and nail spas, eating out and enjoying movies on Netflix. Quite a deviation from my normal life where I'm too busy applying the art of 'kintsugi' (in short fixing other people's 'balderdash'), and ending up feeling exhausted with someone else's burdens. So a quick visit to my fave friend's exhibition (where I bumped into a myriad of other friends), made some purchases (nothing as good at retail-therapy), had a great cup of coffee and cake, indulged in some harmless gossip and laughed uproariously, made me come home satiated.

I also made sure that I wouldn't miss partaking in the food of Chef Harish Rao, a very talented chef from the popular restaurant Hosa in Goa, who was doing a pop-up at JW Marriott for two days. Sharing a table with GM Gaurav Sinha and Director of F&B, Deepak Jeena, was a hoot as the conversation was laced with laughter and bonhomie. Chef Harish spun his magic by introducing his brand of innovative Indian food with nuances from all over the country. The expertise of the chef lies in the fact that he is uber confident with his flavour profiles, seamlessly layering our very complicated Indian cuisine with the 'el-toque-justo' (right touch)!

Later in the week, a very mysterious box was delivered to my doorstep by a very presentable young man in a uniform. I am quite used to our (always in a hurry) delivery boys who are waiting to drop off your parcels with the wrong security-staff or hurriedly dump your parcels outside your door if one doesn't answer the doorbell fast enough. So I was pleasantly surprised to see a personable young man waiting patiently at the door while this very beautiful parcel was delivered. And what a sense of mystery surrounded it! The bag held a box which unfolded into a chocolate egg which needed to be gently tapped with a wooden mallet (provided) to display the contents within! There wasn't a whimper about where this enigmatic Yan Yan was, which day it was unveiling itself, or where it was! A flurry of phone calls yielded no results but ultimately my good friend, the GM of The Ritz-Carlton, solved the mystery by inviting me to a 'sneak-peek' consisting of his close friends and a smattering of foreign consuls, to an outstanding evening of ambrosia and Chinese food. The vibe of the restaurant sets the pace. One enters to a long bar with outstanding cocktails and small plates, while the level downstairs is for the main courses. The menu is well thought of with the freshest of ingredients and to my surprise, I found myself quaffing the cocktails and their vegetarian-fare, which was outstanding; especially the mushrooms and the stir-fried greens!

The world is going through a chaos domino effect and it's scary. Not one to believe in sooth-sayers but… the coincidences are chilling. Enjoy every day, be happy and learn to give precedence to loving yourself more. As the Gen Z says IYKYK (if you know you know)!

WITH BRB IN PROGRESS, SUDEEP'S NEXT TO KICKSTART FROM JULY

A SHARADHAA

IT is no news that Kichcha Sudeep is currently dedicating himself to the much-anticipated Billa Ranga Baasha (BRB), directed by Anup Bhandari. The film recently wrapped a major schedule, and the makers are planning the next one. As we previously reported, Sudeep has been firm about taking on two projects every 18 months. Accordingly, he will set the ball rolling for his next one in July.

Reliable sources have confirmed that the script for Sudeep's next has been locked, and pre-production is in progress. While there was early speculation that the new film might be a continuation of Max, that remains unconfirmed. However, CE has learnt that Sudeep is reuniting with the core Max team. Director Vijay Karthikeyan will once again helm the project, while Max collaborators — composer Ajaneesh Loknath and cinematographer Shekar Chandra — are returning for this upcoming project. It is under wraps whether the film will be Max 2 or a new project.

Additionally, Sudeep is in talks with both established and emerging directors for future collaborations. For now, though, his focus remains on BRB and his upcoming film with the Max crew. An official announcement, including the title and more details, is expected in the coming month.

RangiTaranga to re-release after a decade

Director Anup Bhandari and the cast and crew reflect on the film's reception, its record-breaking run a decade ago, and its upcoming return to theatres

CE FEATURES

A DECADE after its sensational debut, the 2015 Kannada thriller RangiTaranga is returning to the big screen. Directed by Anup Bhandari and produced by HK Prakash, the film is set for a re-release on July 4, to take people on a nostalgic ride.

Alongside director Anup Bhandari, RangiTaranga's cast and crew gathered to share memories from its making and reflect on its lasting impact. Anup Bhandari, who transitioned from international short films to feature filmmaking, still expresses surprise over the film's unprecedented success. "When we released it in 2015, some people doubted if we would even recover our poster expenses. But the audience stood by us. Despite releasing alongside Baahubali and Bajrangi Bhaijaan, our film became a hit and opened up a new market for Kannada cinema in the US. It was the first Kannada film to appear on the New York Box Office listings. It ran for a year in Karnataka," he says. "This re-release is a celebration of 10 years—a chance for today's generation to experience the film in theatres. Since it's not widely available online, we felt this was the right time to bring it back. The excitement around the trailer made us emotional—it felt like a dream all over again. Even Radhika and Nirup Bhandari got emotional watching it," he further adds.

Team RangiTaranga

Producer HK Prakash recalls his instinct to back the project after hearing its songs and story. "Ten years on, people still call me 'RangiTaranga Prakash'. That's the strong impression it created among people. With everyone's support, we're bringing it back to theatres," he shares.

Veteran actor Saikumar, who played a pivotal role, adds: "Police Story and RangiTaranga are like my two eyes. Even today, people still appreciate my role in the film. I hope the re-release creates more records."

Lead actor Nirup Bhandari shares his journey with RangiTaranga, "Being the hero in my brother's first film was a proud moment. I was nervous, especially in my first scene—a fight with Saikumar sir!" Actress Radhika Narayan quips, "Even after many films, people still recognise me for RangiTaranga. That shows the impact it had."

The team also included cinematographer William David, with Ajaneesh Loknath scoring the background music. Anup Bhandari composed the film's soundtrack and wrote lyrics for most of its songs.

The film is set for a re-release in around 50 screens across Karnataka, including multiplexes, offering both old fans and new audiences a chance to revisit—or newly discover.

Sruthi Hariharan returns as Gauri in Mansore's Doora Theera Yaana

CE FEATURES

DIRECTOR Mansore's upcoming film Doora Theera Yaana will release in theatres across Karnataka on July 11. The film has generated a buzz with two hit songs. The makers have now begun introducing other key characters— Gauri, played by Sruthi Hariharan.

This character will be familiar to audiences who have seen Nathicharami, a 2018 film also directed by Mansore. In that film, Sruthi's portrayal of Gauri earned widespread appreciation for its depth and restraint.

Nathicharami went on to receive five National Film Awards, with appreciation for its sensitive exploration of personal and societal themes. While the full context of Gauri's presence in this new narrative remains under wraps, her reappearance suggests a thematic continuity that could connect the emotional worlds of the two films.

The return of a well-recognised character has sparked interest among viewers, particularly those familiar with Nathicharami. With Mansore known for his grounded storytelling, Gauri's role in Doora Theera Yaana adds a thoughtful layer to the film's anticipation—hinting at a story rooted in human experiences, once again brought to life by Shruthi Hariharan's understated screen presence.

Rashmika takes the warpath in Mysaa

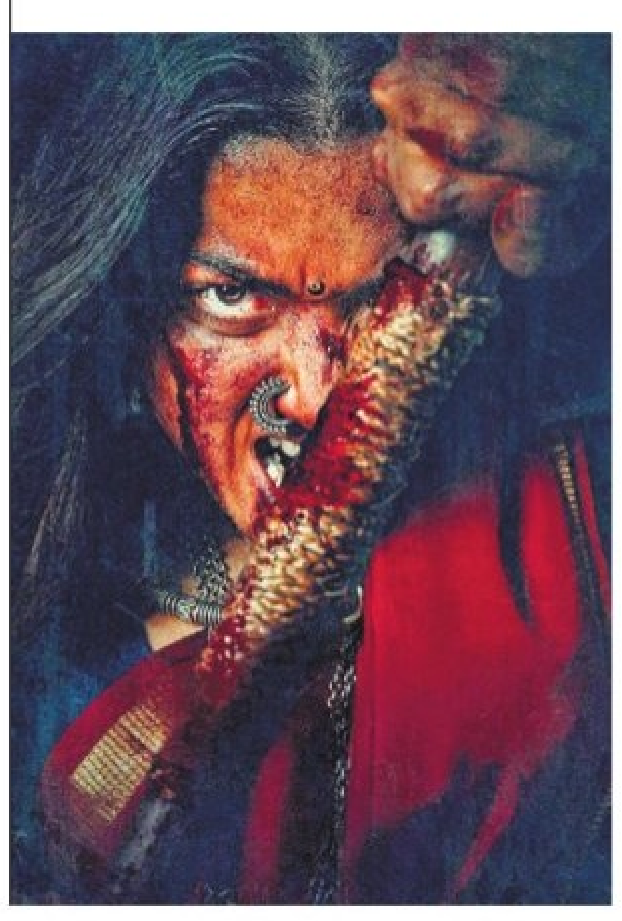
CE FEATURES

WE had reported yesterday about Rashmika Mandanna sharing a first glimpse of her upcoming project. The makers released the official poster of the film, also announcing the title. The film is titled Mysaa. The poster features Rashmika in a never-seen-before fierce avatar.

Taking to her X page, Rashmika shared a note about the movie that read, "I always try to give you something new… something different… something exciting… And this… This is one of those. A character I've never played before… a world I've never stepped into… and a version of me that even I hadn't met till now."

Rawindra Pulle helms the direction for Mysaa, while Ajay and Anil Sayappureddy serve as the producers, bankrolling the film under Unformula Films. Details about the rest of the film's cast and crew are yet to be unveiled.

Rashmika Mandanna has another film coming up with The Girlfriend, a coming-of-age drama directed by Rahul Ravindran. The first teaser of the film dropped last December, with a special voiceover by Vijay Deverakonda.



A pulsating ride through an oft-beaten track

PRASHANTH VALLAVAN

F1

Director: Joseph Kosinski

Cast: Brad Pitt, Javier Bardem, Damson Idris, Kerry Condon

SPORTS dramas often operate within the strict constraints of a binary outcome. The hero or a team either wins or loses. The simplicity is also the genre's beauty. As Sonny Hayes says in F1, "It's not about the money." It is never about the end outcome. It is the "how", with its interpersonal drama, display of indomitable will, and ample amounts of adrenaline-pumping moments inside the stadium/ring/track, that forms the core appeal of sports dramas. Having said that, it's not the outcome or even the "how" but the "why" that firmly tethers us to the characters and drama of F1.

An old timer is pulled back into the game for one last shot at glory. He has to work along with an effervescent young rookie, desperate to prove himself, which fills him with doubts and recklessness. A team leader puts the team together to "bet the farm" on that one final game. It's a formula as old as the genre itself. But F1 doesn't aim to reinvent the wheel. It just spins it really fast, which, honestly, is just part of the thrill. As I mentioned earlier, what keeps us hooked is why it's spinning. The film has "why's" of all shapes, sizes, and colours. Javier Bardem's Ruben Cervantes, a former race car driver himself, has to prove that his bottom-of-the-barrel team is worth the board members' money or lose ownership. Kerry Condon's Kate, the team's technical director, the first woman to hold that position in Formula One, wants to prove to an incredulous world that she's more than just a diversity hire. Damson Idris' Joshua Pearce, the highly motivated rookie, wants to prove that he is worthy of all the fame, money, and success reserved for the best of the best in the game. Even a pit crew member is fighting insecurities and in-game anxiety to prove to her team she knows what she is doing. Sonny Hayes is the protagonist not because Brad Pitt is playing him or that he is the man behind the wheel but because his purpose is the one we chase throughout the film. Why, three decades after a horrendous accident ripped him apart from the Formula One circuit, is Sonny Hayes back on the track? The question is peppered throughout the film and the answer is even beautifully hinted at when Ruben wonders out loud to a hospitalised Sonny, "Why do we do this? Why not tennis or golf?" F1 isn't a complex, philosophical dissection of that answer, nor does it go past a surface-level character study on Sonny Hayes. But what it does offer is just the right amount of fresh contours in this oft-beaten track that it feels safe and exciting.

Sonny Hayes is your typical too-cool-to-care, world-weary protagonist. And Brad Pitt plays him in a way that makes it hard to deduce if it is effortless charm or just Pitt not caring enough. Either way, it somehow ends up working in favour of the film. Kerry Condon walks in like a beam of light whenever she enters the frame as Kate McKenna, using a pleasant countenance to paint a character whose dimensions mostly lie in the peripheries, with no immediate purpose to the screenplay. Damson Idris makes you feel like anyone other than him would have made Joshua Pearce harder to like. However, it is Javier Bardem as Ruben Cervantes who deliberately surpasses the demands of the screenplay to add emotional weight to the film. If not for the story itself, Bardem could have made you believe that F1 is a story about Ruben.

Beyond performances and storytelling, the film provides consummate justice to its title in every way except for how a team on the bottom can quickly climb up the board to compete with the heavy-hitters on top. The visuals try to avoid racing film cliches (like a closeup of the wheels or a static shot of cars whizzing by) as much as possible. With a swiveling camera that turns back and forth between the speed-blurred tracks and the tense face of the driver, the film doesn't rely on choppy editing to maintain momentum. Contrarily, even simple conversations are chopped, perhaps to maintain the pacing even off the tracks. Except for Joseph Kosinksi's signature sterile visuals, F1 largely repackages the charm of old-school high-concept sports drama by simply cutting down the cheese. The visuals might have you believe that F1 is Top Gun: Maverick on wheels but Kosinksi knows better than to imitate an unreachable benchmark. So, he wins you over by going the opposite way. Brad Pitt isn't going "Listen here kid, let me show you how it's done." And for that and a bit more, we can be thankful. This isn't a film about redemption, becoming a family, or other lofty themes. It is about chasing an unquenchable high, and F1 does that with dignity and style.
